

OLSON FATH QUIZ ON TODAY

EUROPE'S PEACE HOPES SNAGGED ON RHINE ARMY

Security Big Issue in League Council.

GENEVA, Switzerland, Dec. 5.—(AP)—A serious snag has been reached in the political reconstruction of Europe over the momentous problem of security against war between France and Germany. Whether the movement for European reconciliation will go forward or backward is believed to depend on the outcome of the December session of the league of nations council, opening tomorrow.

Germany, represented by Gustav Stresemann, her foreign minister, has come to Geneva gripped that, despite the Locarno treaty and the Kellogg entry into the league of nations, the allies still maintain 80,000 troops in the Rhineland and still insist on inter-allied control of German armaments.

Germany wants allied control abandoned and is willing to substitute the right of investigation of German armaments by the league, provided such control does not offend German prestige. On their part the allies, especially France, are worried over Germany's potential war strength, due to her great population and the excessive activity of German associations which are organizing German manhood along alleged military lines.

France Fails Security First.

France deems the supreme question that of security of her future generations against German aggression.

Elaboration of further Franco-German economic and financial accords, begun at the Thoiry conference, the allies still maintain, now that she has submitted herself to the fabric of the league of nations. He was also apprehensive of the crumbling of the political groups in the reichstag which have heretofore been backing him unreservedly.

Stresemann Needs Friend.

Dr. Stresemann conferred lengthily with M. Briand, French foreign minister, tonight, and subsequently with Sir Austen Chamberlain, British secretary for foreign affairs. The conversations will continue throughout the week. It is understood Dr. Stresemann maintained that he had been promised at Locarno and Thoiry that the allied occupation would be reduced to 45,000, which was the strength of the German garrisons on the west front before the war.

Germany's representative admitted the question of inter-allied control and the right of investigation by the league were two distinct matters, but insisted that allied control had been imposed on Germany over and above the treaty of Versailles, and ought to be abolished.

France Cites "Good Intentions."

M. Briand made it clear that control was still in the hands of the ambassadors' council and contended the general attitude toward Germany was based on good will and good intentions, adding: "Undoubtedly, if the impression existed that our attitude was vexatious, oppressive, or tyrannical, it would cause misunderstanding."

It is believed that Sir Austen Chamberlain is trying to have allied control merged into the league's right to investigate German armaments.

Seven foreign ministers have arrived in Geneva for the council meeting. The ministers are Dr. Stresemann, Germany; M. Briand, France; Sir Austen Chamberlain, Great Britain; M. Vandervelde, Belgium; M. Zaleski, Poland; Dr. Eduard Benes, Czechoslovakia; and Jonkheer von Karnebeck, Holland. The much talked of meeting with Premier Mussolini of Italy seems doubtful, though Dr. Stresemann may go to Italy after the council.

League Holds Saar Election.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

SAARBRÜCKEN, Dec. 5.—The league of nations commission, which is administering the Saar district, has decided that the elections for the local council, which were scheduled for January, must be postponed a year. This has caused much indignation among the population. The decree is called a measure of infringement of its election rights.

$40,000 in Pearls Stolen from St. Louis Woman

St. Louis, Dec. 5.—(AP)—A string of pearls valued at $40,000 was lost by or stolen from Mrs. Charles M. Rice, wife of a prominent attorney of St. Louis, while she was on a visit here last week, it became known today.

124 SHIPS HELD IN SOO ICE FACE WINTER TIEUP

Cargoes in Vessels Worth $25,000,000.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Dec. 5.—(AP)—The giant ice breaker Saulte Marie, assisted by tugs and lighters, charged about today with little effect against the ice formations of the St. Mary's river which threatened to imprison the winter a fleet of lake vessels bound for Canadian and United States ports.

A total of 124 vessels with aggregate cargoes valued at more than $25,000,000 still were tied up in the river, the gateway from Lake Huron into Lake Superior.

After working all night and today the Saulte Marie had succeeded in freeing four upbound vessels, the Canadian Pacific liner Astoria, loaded with passengers, and the freighters Ontario, S. M. Clements, and the freighter Hargreaves.

Carving Wide Path.

The work is exceedingly difficult and slow, and it is necessary for the Saulte Marie to make a new lane to each ship and by the time she carves a path wide enough for tugs to operate in pulling the trapped ships free, the start stretch of the lane freezes over. The Saulte Marie was frozen in several times herself today and was able to pull free with difficulty.

The difficulty of the work and the "inaccessibility" of some of the ships led lake engineers today to express the opinion that the jam may not be completely broken before spring.

Most of the work of the Saulte Marie has centered around the upper reaches of the river channel, where the ice jam is less severe. With a slight shift of warmer weather it is thought the 40 vessels-imprisoned there may be freed.

In the lower section of the channel sixty-six vessels, all downbound, are held fast, and the remainder are imprisoned between the two outlets. The ice of the ships in the lower channel is the most uncertain. They are seriously handicapped by the down drift of ice.

Below Zero Temperature.

The huge cakes, broken loose by maneuvering lighters and tugs, have wedged in the narrow cuts on each side of Neeshbee island, at the head of the river, and the continuation of the below zero temperature has caused the loose formations to solidify and deepen.

Most of the imprisoned ships are at considerable distance off shore and the crews have remained aboard. The tugs are able to get close enough to carry supplies and there is no food shortage as yet. There is an acute shortage of coal, however, and no prospect of reaching the ships with any after their meager supplies run out. There is only a small supply on hand at Sault Ste. Marie, and officials have notified ship owners they will be unable to spare any appreciable amount for the steamers, were it possible to reach them with ice trucks.

Approximately 2,000 sailors are marooned in the icebound channel. Officials said there was no immediate fear for their safety, and pointed out that as a last resort they could leave their ships and make their way ashore over the ice and their reach inland settlements. Others of the vessels, however, believe there is no food shortage as yet. There is an acute shortage of coal, however, and no prospect of reaching the ships with any after their meager supplies run out. There is only a small supply on hand at Sault Ste. Marie, and officials have notified ship owners they will be unable to spare any appreciable amount for the steamers, were it possible to reach them with ice trucks.

Use Horse Drawn Vehicles.

It is necessary to use horse drawn vehicles to transport supplies overland, as the sparsely populated woods district of the upper peninsula is inaccessible for other travel at this season. About 500 miles west of here on Keweenaw bay the steamers City of Bangor and Mayhew, hard aground off Point Isabelle, were in danger of being battered to pieces.

The Bangor is loaded with automobiles and the Mayhew with ore. There is said to be little hope of saving either ship. Whether an attempt to get them off the reef by throwing their cargoes overboard and thus lightening them will be made still was undecided. Engineers, however, were of the opinion such action would be of little help, if any, toward rescuing them.

Baby's Bed Takes Fire, but Parents Come to the Rescue

Shirley Victor, 14 month old daughter of R. J. Victor, 613 York place, narrowly escaped death last night when the mattress on which she was sleeping caught fire after defective wiring had caused a short circuit and ignited the ceiling above her bed. The child's cries attracted the attention of her father and mother, Mrs. Frances Victor, and they pulled her from the bed before she was burned. Victor was burned on the arm and face in extinguishing the flames that had ignited the mattress.

WHEN CONGRESS OPENS

Ban on Stage Caricatures of Pastors Sought

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.

Prevention of the caricaturing of Protestant ministers in the movies and on the stage will be one of the subjects discussed at the annual meeting of the executive committee of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, which will be held from Wednesday to Friday of this week in Minneapolis.

This is the first time the executive committee has met in the northwest and the Church Federation of Minneapolis is preparing to make the event one of importance. Among the speakers will be Gov. Theodore Christianson of Minnesota, Bishop John M. Moore, Dallas, Tex.; Miss Lucy P. Gardner, London, Eng.; Mrs. John Ferguson, New York City, and Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, president of the Federal council, which represents 35 denominations and 25,000,000 communicants.

Discuss Prohibition Question.

Other questions which will be discussed will be prohibition, the raising of the standard and increasing the number of army chaplains, and the relation of the churches to organized labor. This last named question will be introduced by a review of the recent action of the churches in Detroit, Mich., when labor leaders were excluded from certain pulpits because of alleged pressure from employers. The question will have, it is said, a further airing with suggestions regarding future action of the churches.

Report on the treatment of Protestant ministers in movies and the theater will be made by Dr. George Reld Andrews, chairman of the committee on drama.

Names of Films Challenged.

Will H. Hays, president of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, has on several occasions secured changes on the advice of our committee," Dr. Andrews will say.

He names several pictures, one of them having a record run on Broadway, where changes have been made, way, where changes have been made.

The report on army and navy chaplains will read in part:

"The action of President Coolidge in asking for the appointment of a regular chaplain on his yacht, the U. S. S. Mayflower, is having a stimulating effect on the appeal made by the federal council for an increase of 50 army chaplains and the raising of the standard among the chaplains by which all chaplains must have a degree from a reputable college, a divinity degree from a theological seminary and two years of experience in the work in some parish. Catholics, Jews and Protestants are working harmoniously together in the appointment and distribution of chaplains."

LOSES $100 IN PENNIES, HE SAYS, TO 2 STRANGERS

Just how long it takes to win $100 by matching pennies promises to remain a mystery, at least so far as M. W. Muham, a doctor of laws from the University of Berlin, who has been in this country only nine months and who, since his arrival in Chicago has been a guest at the Drake hotel, told the police he was induced to enter the penny matching business by two strangers who accosted him on the steps of the Art Institute.

After taking him to an underground drinking place that reminded him of his own German rathskeller and depleting his treasury of $100 in pennies, they departed saying they would meet him later at his hotel and give him another chance to recover his money. Mr. Muham related. He could give no adequate description of the strangers.

Dr. A. E. Halsted Gravely Ill of Heart Disease

Dr. A. E. Halsted, widely known surgeon and formerly head of the staff of St. Luke's hospital, is gravely ill of heart disease and fears were expressed last night that he might not survive until morning. Three physicians, Dr. N. C. Gilbert, Dr. Robert Treble, and Dr. John Byford, the last named his son-in-law, were in constant attendance. Mrs. Halsted and his two daughters were summoned to his bedside. Dr. Halsted served in France as a lieutenant colonel in charge of a base hospital.

Kissing Often Kills the Baby, Bundesen Says

Kissing the baby into the grave is one of the not inconsiderable causes of infant mortality brought out by a scientific study of the subject by the Chicago department of health, says Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, health commissioner, in his weekly bulletin, which discusses the infant welfare work done in Chicago.

"Babies do not die because they are unfit," the bulletin says. "They die for the sanitary sins of their parents and the community at large. They die in the summer time from the combined effects of hot weather and bad diet, and in the winter from hot homes, improper feeding, and nose" throat, and lung infections brought to them by people who have coughs and colds but who insist on kissing and fondling them."

Deaths Decrease Since 1910.

Since 1910, due to infant welfare work, there has been a gradual decline in the infant death rate in Chicago, according to statistics published in the bulletin. During 1910 there were born in Chicago 55,468 babies, of whom 5,841 died, or 12.3 per cent of every 1,000.

During 1925 52,419 babies were born here, of whom but 4,497, or 75 out of every 1,000, died—a decrease of 40 per cent. This represents a saving of 2,900 lives in 1925 alone, which would have been lost had the rate of 1910 prevailed. Dr. Bundesen points out.

In 1926, from Jan. 1 to Nov. 26, inclusive, 53,751 babies were born, and 3,677 under a year of age died, making a rate of 6.84 per 1,000 births. In that period the saving in lives, as compared with 1910, was 3,065.

Greatest Danger in First Week.

It is noted that the great saving of 16,623 lives since 1910 has been entirely in babies under one week old, for during 1910 1,463 babies died before they were a week old, while during 1925 1,468, an actual increase of 14 per cent, died. These figures, according to Dr. Bundesen, prove that the root of the problem has not been reached.

Taxicab Kills Girl as She Leaves Street Car

Miss Anna Polinske, 22 years old, 4210 Van Buren street, was fatally injured early this morning when she was struck by a taxicab after she had stepped from a street car a few blocks away from her home. The cab, said to have been speeding, was driven by James Fuller, 22 years old, 2935 Carroll avenue.

Florence Lowden Out of Danger After Operation

Miss Florence Lowden, daughter of former Gov. and Mrs. Frank O. Lowden, is convalescing at St. Luke's hospital from an operation for appendicitis performed last Thursday. Miss Lowden was stricken suddenly and taken to the hospital, where she was attended by Dr. L. L. McArthur. She is now reported out of danger.

Loop Shop Is Robbed Twice; Police Rapped

Inferred neglect of duty was lodged against Chicago police last night by officials of Burns & Graessle, whose haberdashery at 105 South Dearborn street has been robbed twice within a month, the thieves making off with loot valued at $10,000.

"I've heard a lot about crime running rampant, but I believe our experience, for sheer contempt of the law, caps the climax," declared a member of the firm yesterday. "They simply backed their wagon to our front door, kicked in a couple of windows, loaded up with the pick of our stock, and drove away. Not once, but twice."

"Could you believe that could happen right in the heart of the loop, two blocks from the so-called busiest corner in the world?"

First Robbery Election Day.

The first visit of the thieves was on the early morning of Nov. 2, general election day. The loot that trip, consisting of suits, hats, collars, and ties, totaled $2,000 in value, one member of the firm said.

On Saturday night came the second raid. This time, it is alleged, the robbers got $12,000 in merchandise, carted away in a truck.

"Perhaps they'll come back in a night or so to get what's left. They might as well. It apparently did no good to set the Chicago police on their trail," remarked the member of the firm.

Collins Asked to Help.

After the first robbery, it is said, a personal appeal was made to Chief of Police Collins. It was suggested to the chief that the firm would post a reward in hope of aiding in the capture of the thieves. But this idea, it was said, the chief vetoed, saying it was unnecessary.

"But he did promise to post a policeman near our shop until we could get an iron door," said the official.

"I don't know where this policeman could have been on Saturday night. Those fellows must have made quite a bit of racket in crashing windows and dragging the stuff out."

Three Seized by Police.

Investigation of the first robbery by Lieut. Leo Carr of the detective bureau brought about the arrest of three men on charges of receiving stolen property and the recovery of two of the suits stolen, it was learned.

Those held are Carl Calabrese, 33 years old, 1048 West Polk street, and his brother, Frank, 22, and Peter Leonard, 22, 1048 Polk street. Leonard is a brother-in-law of the Calabrese brothers.

The suits, it is claimed, were found hanging in a closet in the home of Carl Calabrese. Neither of the three would talk, declaring they didn't know who owned the suits.

When arraigned before Municipal Judge Howard Hayes in South Court street court, the cases of the three were continued to Nov. 30, upon that date a second continuance being given by Judge Hayes to Dec. 2.

TRYST MISSIVE HITS STORY OF YOUTH'S FATHER

Hint He Knew About Son's Romance.

BULLETIN.

Prairie du Chien, Wis., Dec. 5.—(Special.)—Two men who attended a dance in Seneca, Wis., on the evening of Sept. 3 tonight told Sheriff Harry Sherwood that they had seen Erdman Olson drive away from the dance hall that night about 11:35 p. m. and that he was accompanied by a man whom neither of the witnesses knew.

Olson's sweetheart, Clara Olson, whose body was found several days ago in a grave on Battle ridge, is believed to have joined him shortly after midnight.

The new information strengthens the belief of the authorities that Olson was aided in the killing of the girl, the present theory being that the stranger was with him when he drove up near the home of Clara's father to await her.

BY ORVILLE DWYER.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Prairie du Chien, Wis., Dec. 5.—(Special.)—Erdman Olson's whereabouts for some weeks after the murder of his sweetheart, Clara Olson, found buried on a knoll near his home, may be disclosed at the inquest tomorrow morning. Albert Olson's story that he knew nothing of the romance between his son and the girl who was killed will be made the subject of investigation.

Interest of the authorities in the inquest will center on Erdman's last letter to Clara. That letter was received by the girl on the afternoon before she slipped out of her father's home to her death. It was found tucked into her dress when the autopsy, revealing she had been brutally beaten to death, was performed.

So important do the authorities consider that letter that they refused to make it public until after they have questioned all the members of Erdman's family, a hired man on the Albert Olson farm, and Christ Olson, father of Clara, and all her sisters and brothers.

Hint of Letter's Contents.

It is understood, however, that the letter in addition to urging the girl to flee with him, Erdman on the midnight before she was murdered, stated to her that Albert Olson had withdrawn all his objections to the marriage of his 18 year old son to the girl four years his senior.

It is said also to have urged the murdered girl to "be sure and get the money." An informant says the authorities believe the girl did bring some money with her when she went to meet Erdman. Only an empty purse attached to the girl's dress was found with the body.

Sheriff Harry Sherwood and District Attorney J. S. East are busy with plans for the pursuit of Erdman. They have telegraphed to several points in Canada and to some cities in the west where the youth has relatives in the belief that he has gone to stay with one of them. It was also reported that the sheriff had communicated with navy department officials in Washington on information that Erdman, under an assumed name, had joined the navy.

Inquest Opens Today.

The inquest will open at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning in the Circuit court room. Christ Olson, father of the girl, will probably be the first witness and will probably be followed on the stand by Albert Olson, father of the boy.

Both men are well to do tobacco planters. Christ Olson lives on a 400 acre farm near Seneca. Wise Albert lives a quarter of a mile southeast of Battle Ridge, near Rising Sun, where the body of Clara was dug out of the yellow soil.

The authorities will question Albert on his statements that he knew nothing of the romance until Clara disappeared on the morning of Sept. 10, and Erdman, on Sept. 27, suddenly left Gale college at Galeville.

Want to Hear About Dreams.

"They also want to know more about the dream visions that Clara had been telling; how he first knew Clara was gone by seeing, in a vision, her room empty, and how he later was certain she had been slain because he saw her in a dream," buried face down in a grave on a hill near Rising Sun," so, as it is stated out, the body was found.

Both the officials have heard of such dream visions before. But these ways so realistic that District Attorney East shaken his head and talks of ruse.

ing up on Freud. Anyway, he is determined to get from Christ Olson a detailed story of the vision.

Sheriff Sherwood, after conferences with the district attorney, drove off today up the Black River road towards the two Olson farms. He would not say where he was going, but said he had obtained a clue which would not take him to either of the Olson families.

Doctors who conducted the autopsy yesterday were said to have expressed the opinion that the skeletonized body of Clara had been killed while riding in an automobile. This again centered the interest of the county officials on the roadster which Erdman drove.

Bernard Olson, brother of Clara, is expected to testify that he knew the peculiar trend of the three. He says the trucks came down the side road from the main highway, down to the head of the lane leading to the Christ Olson home, turned there and went back, and that he followed them all the way back to Erdman's father's farm.

Christ Olson today said that the finding of the body would make it impossible for the murderer to remain long at large.

"They will find Erdman soon now," he said. "They'll find him, and he'll have to answer to the law."

URGES SON TO COME HOME

BY MOSES LAYSON.
Prairie du Chien, Wis., Dec. 5.—[Special.]—No matter what the world may think, Albert Olson, father of Erdman Olson, holds faith in his son.

"Innocent, why I'll be my last dollar on that kid of mine," he said, "and say I'll give a whole lot to send a message to my boy." He then asked that this message be broadcast:

"Dear boy of mine. Come back, Erd boy. I'll stand by you until the last. I know you didn't have anything to do with the disappearance of Clara. Your mother is fine and knows you are innocent of any wrong doing. It may look bad for you, boy, but trot along home to me, kid, never mind how black it may look. Try your damndest to get in touch with me. I'll do the rest."

Olson was reminded that it may cost him a great deal of money to prove the innocence of his boy. He was asked how many acres his farm contained.

"The hell with the acres. We'll start over again," he burst out. "Why I have 250 acres of good land, valued at about $100, an acre, and buildings valued at close to $75,000 and I'll back it all on that kid of mine."

HOFFMAN HELPS HUNT FOR ANTON ON BOY'S CLEW

Sheriff Peter M. Hoffman yesterday took a personal hand in the extended search being made throughout the Des Plaines river valley for trace of Theodore Anton, Cicero hotel proprietor, mysteriously missing for a week.

A story of seeing a bloodstained attleto in a scabbard near the Seegar's bridge over the Des Plaines river near the spot where Anton's bloodstained coat and loaded revolver were found, as related by a boy in a Des Plaines, Ill., drug store, brought the sheriff into the case. Sheriff Hoffman, standing near by, overheard the boy and at once set out with him for the designated spot.

A search of hours, however, failed to find the knife.

Mrs. Raymond Bischoff Warned to Leave City

A note attached to a jump of coal, bearing the warning "Get out of town before your lives are lost," was thrown through the window of the home of Mrs. Raymond Bischoff, 620 Aldine street, last night. The note bore the signature "Black Hand." Raymond Bischoff was convicted ten years ago of operating a confidence game, but the Supreme court reversed the finding. Police expressed the belief some one who lost money through him may have hurled the threat.

BOY $249 BECAME $1,495.
A settlement was recently made on a savings and life insurance account in the Harris Trust and Savings Bank whereby a depositor's family received $1,425.78 on an account which had been carried for twenty-one months with deposits of $5.40 per month, making a total deposit for that period of $249.60.

The account was originally opened with the intention of saving $1,000 by making small deposits in the bank each month, but before the objective was reached the depositor died. Because of the insurance feature of this plan the $1,000 that was to be saved by the depositor was paid to the depositor's family in addition to $425.78, representing the bank balance and disability benefits received through this plan.

Any one between the ages of 10 and 70 is eligible for this plan, and any amount between $1.00 and $50.00 may be accumulated by making the required monthly deposits. A postcard addressed to the Harris Trust and Savings Bank, 115 West Monroe Street, requesting additional information, will be given prompt attention.—Adv.

New York, Dec. 5.—(AP)—Sleighbells came back to Central park today during the snowstorm and the owners of New York's six surviving sleighs profited at the rate of $25 an hour.

Robert Simpson, 74 year old dean of cabbies, said he bought his sleigh last summer for $3 and while the snow lasts he considers $100 a day should be his average income.

SCAR ON ARM PROVES SUICIDE IS CHAS. CROWLEY

Druggist's Wife Upsets Erdman Olson Theory.

Identification of the youth whose body has lain unclaimed at the county morgue since Nov. 5 was definitely established yesterday as being Charles Crowley, 20, son of Dr. James Crowley, 5609 South Peoria street, proprietor of a drug store at 80 West 21st street.

Any doubt that the youth, who was found dead of strychnine poisoning in his room at the Tremont hotel, 39 South Dearborn street, could be other than young Crowley was removed when Mrs. Crowley saw a long scar on the left forearm.

"Yes, that's Jimmie," she cried, shrinking back, half fainting, into the arms of her husband.

Uses Boy's Pet Name.

"Jimmie," it was explained, was the family pet name for Charles. The identification ended any lingering theory that the dead youth was Erdman Olson, sought at Prairie du Chien, Wis., as the slayer of his sweetheart, Clara Dorothy Olson.

Stories of the search for Erdman Olson resulting in widespread belief that the body at the morgue was Olson's caused friends to urge Crowley to visit that place on the chance that the body might be that of his son, also a college student.

Charles Crowley, his father said, had been undecided as to what to do, but finally had promised his parents he would matriculate at the University of Chicago this year. He was given $100 and left home to register at the university. He had not been seen after that.

Father Unable to Identify Body.

"Looks like him, but I'm not sure," was the father's verdict when he first viewed the body on Saturday night.

Later that night, however, the father's brother, Dr. John F. Crowley, 3536 South Hamilton avenue, a dentist, who had done work on the youth's teeth, viewed the body and was positive it wasn't that of Charles Crowley.

Mr. and Mrs. Crowley, accompanied by Dr. Crowley, went to the morgue yesterday afternoon. Dr. Crowley then made a thorough examination of the dead youth's teeth.

Completing his examination, Dr. Crowley said he had discovered two gold crowns and a filling he had done.

"It's undoubtedly Charles," he declared, stepping into the hallway to summon the boy's mother and father. The mother's discovery of the scar quickly followed.

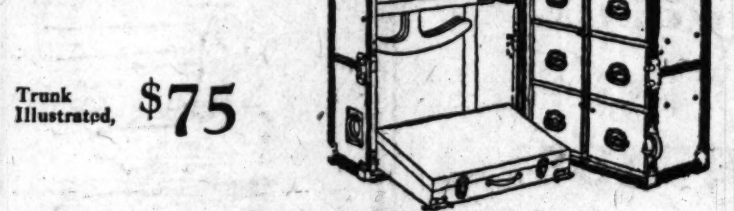

Crowley had registered at the Tremont hotel under the name of John Carr. No money was found in his pockets, and his clothing, containing no identification marks, was poor. It is believed he had disposed of his own clothing in an effort to hide his identity. His father took charge of the body.

CHILE ACCEPTS U. S. PLAN CEDING ARICA TO BOLIVIA

Answer Is Forwarded to Secretary Kellogg.

BY JOHN LIVINGSTONE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
SANTIAGO, Chile, Dec. 5.—The Chilean cabinet this morning approved the answer to the proposal of the American secretary of state, Frank B. Kellogg, for the settlement of the long standing dispute between Peru and Chile over the Tacna-Arica territory. The Chilean answer was delivered at 5 p. m. to the American embassy and will be forwarded at 1 a. m. tomorrow to Secretary Kellogg. The answer was sent to all Chilean legations. The official text will not be made public until 5 p. m. tomorrow.

Accepts Cession to Bolivia.
The Chilean answer accepts in principle the United States' proposal to cede Tacna-Arica to Bolivia, with Chile maintaining its jurisdictional position regarding Chilean rights in Tacna-Arica. There follows historical comment for the purpose of setting forth the Chilean viewpoint.

It is insisted that Bolivia must enforce absolute disarmament in the region. Arica is to be a free port open to Chile, Peru, and Bolivia. Acceptance of the fulfillment of the agreement by Latin American nations is recommended.

The reply ends with the hope that the Chilean sacrifice may be duly appreciated as a contribution to continental peace and world progress, reflecting the desire of the press, the people and congress for settlement of the dispute.

The acceptance of the United States' latest proposal may virtually mark the end of the long struggle by America to settle the trouble.

Pershing Made Chairman.
The question was laid before President Coolidge as arbitrator, and he decided upon a commission, headed by a neutral chairman to fix rules for a plebiscite in the territory, to decide whether it should be Chile's or Peru's.

Gen. John J. Pershing was chosen head of the commission. Pershing arrived in Arica about Aug. 1, 1925, and immediately began preparations for a plebiscite. However, frequent disputes between Peru and Chile and clashes between their nationals delayed the vote. Finally Gen. Pershing resigned because of poor health, and Maj. Gen. William Lassiter was appointed to succeed him. Maj. Gen. Lassiter reached Arica in January of this year. He, however, had no better success than Gen. Pershing, and last summer the plebiscite was finally called off.

Note Received in Washington.
Washington, D. C., Dec. 5.—The Chilean note replying to Secretary Kellogg's proposal for cession of the disputed territory of Tacna-Arica to Bolivia was received by the Chilean embassy here today. A similar note is being forwarded to the state department.

After discussing at length the historical aspect of the Tacna-Arica problem, the note says:

"Our government remains within the stipulation of the treaty of Ancon, thus following its long and uninterupted position of respect for the pledged word and the faithful and exact fulfillment of international obligation."

Won't Abandon Rights.
"At no time did the government of Chile abandon the solid juridical position given her by the treaty of Ancon and the arbitral award. It does not abandon those rights, but solely has considered the possibility of sacrificing them freely and voluntarily on the

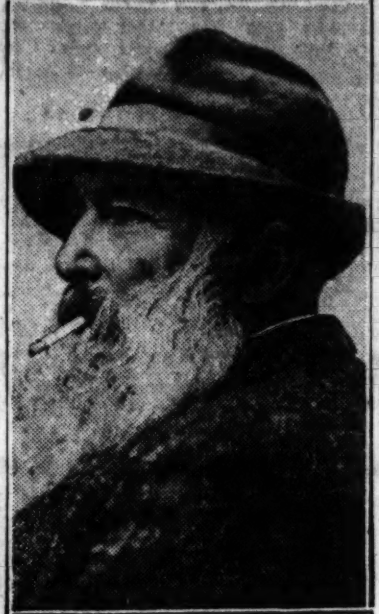

Monet, French Painter, Dies at 86; Clemenceau at Side

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
PARIS, Dec. 5.—Claude Monet, the French painter, died at noon today at the age of 86, at his Giverny studio. His friend, Georges Clemenceau, was at his bedside when the end came.

Claude Monet, who was born on Nov. 14, 1840, was the last of the great French impressionist group of the '80s, which included Manet, Sisley, Renoir, and Pissarro. He had great stress on the delineation of light and shade, and his methods of painting sunlight have been imitated widely by the impressionists.

An American once offered Monet $3,000,000 for thirty paintings he had made of his garden. The artist refused and presented the entire collection to the French nation. He once destroyed $100,000 worth of his own paintings just before they were to go on exhibition, because he decided they were not worthy of his standards of art.

The artist led a hermitlike existence, barring his beautiful home to journalists, critics and photographers. M. Clemenceau was one of his few friends. Several of M. Monet's paintings are in the Chicago Art Institute.

CLAUDE MONET.

tar of a superior national or American interest.

"In this sense the Chilean government agrees to consider in principle the proposal.

"The Chilean government attributes capital importance to the thoughts which the secretary of state set forth in his memorandum with regard for the character of perpetual neutrality in which these territories must be maintained. We therefore agree with him that the term demilitarization of that region must be understood in its widest sense, eliminating absolutely all possibilities that in it or in its territorial waters there may be maintained bases or forces of land, air or sea."

Peru Questions Move.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
LIMA, Peru, Dec. 4.—The statement by La Prensa, the semi-official organ of the government, that the latter had asked Secretary of State Kellogg whether, in his latest proposal on Tacna-Arica, the wishes of the inhabitants had been taken into consideration, is regarded here as an indication of the fundamental difference between the views of Secretary Kellogg and those of the Peruvian government regarding the solution of the controversy. Official circles continue to maintain the greatest reticence with regard to Peru's final attitude.

CHAPLINS MUMAS LAWYERS HIGGLE OVER CHILDREN

Both Comedian and Lita
Insist on Their Custody.

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 5.—(AP)—Charles Chaplin, film comedian, and his estranged wife, the former Lita Grey, who spent $8,000 for a wardrobe just before she quit her home last Tuesday after a row over Lita's guests, continued to observe a truce in their domestic argument today while attorneys for both sides prepared for another conference.

Mrs. Chaplin, at the home of her grandparents, declined to discuss her differences with her husband. She busied herself arranging her children's things which she brought from the Chaplin mansion yesterday. Both of the boys, Charles Spencer Jr., 2, and Sydney Earle, 1, were dressed in their best bib and tucker, having discarded the soiled rompers and sweaters which they had been wearing since last Tuesday.

Telephone calls to the actor's home brought a response that Mr. Chaplin was out.

Attorneys for both have indicated that they would meet early this week in an attempt to effect a settlement of the Chaplins' marital difficulties. Two preliminary conferences were held last week.

The legal controversy centers about the custody of the two Chaplin children. Mrs. Chaplin says she will keep them, and their father is equally determined to obtain their custody.

TITLE VANISHES

Baron Louis Henry Rodney La Trac, whose marriage to Miss Tina Valen, a danseuse, was announced last spring, is now in a detective bureau cell. But his title has been stripped from him and he is now Roland W. Kreighbaum, vaudeville dancer and alleged bigamist.

Dimitry Shimkovsky, 307 Margate terrace, orchestra conductor and father of the danseuse, is the complainant. He admitted that he was somewhat disgruntled at the fact the baron was a Kreighbaum and a dancer, but declared he could have stood that if his daughter's husband hadn't already had a wife.

Detectives employed by Shimkovsky traced the couple to New York after they left here. According to their story, Tina was earning a living for both. Kreighbaum was arrested. Tina pawned her jewels and obtained a writ of habeas corpus and the baron's release. He was arrested again and, while failing this time, was brought to Chicago. Lillian Foster of Minneapolis, said to be the baron-hooper's original wife, is on her way here to prosecute.

THREE SOCIETY WOMEN TO HUNT ARCTIC ANIMALS

Three young society matrons of Chicago will be members of an expedition into the arctic that will sail from San Francisco on May 1 of next year, captained by John Borden on his ship the Northern Light. Mrs. John Borden, Mrs. Charles Barney Goodspeed and Mrs. R. B. Slaughter comprise the trio.

The expedition is for the purpose of securing specimens of the Kodiak bear, largest of its kind; the huge Pacific walrus, averaging 3,000 pounds, and a polar bear for the Field museum. The expedition is to last five months. It will be known as the Borden-Field museum arctic expedition.

Commander Borden's tales of the Arctic have prepared the three feminine members of his party for a far milder climate than the general notions of the arctic comprehend. As a summer resort, he contends, it cannot be surpassed.

Hours for Business, Until Christmas: 8:30 A. M. to 6 P. M. MARSHALL FIELD & COMPANY

A Christmas 'Special'— Easy Chair, $16.75

It is rare, indeed, that you find an Armchair of such excellent lines, in such a variety of coverings, at this remarkably low price. Just the Chair for the fire-side, to draw up comfortably to the couch when tea comes, or to fill an awkward corner in your bedroom. You may choose it in a softly toned damask, a wool tapestry, a gay chintz or a smooth mohair. Its spring construction, with moss filling, is of standard quality. There is a limited number of these Chairs, and to insure delivery for Christmas early selection is advised.

SNOW IN EAST BREAKS RECORD FOR 40 YEARS

New York Fights to Keep Food Routes Open.

New York, Dec. 5.—(Special.)—The heaviest early December snowfall in forty years—part of a storm general in the east and stretching out over Ohio—laid a blanket on New York City seven inches deep today and brought death to four persons here. A dozen or more persons were killed in the storm zone stretching from New England to Washington.

The snow was six and one-half inches deep in New York in the early evening and it continued descending far into the night.

More than 10,000 men were at work for the department of street cleaning, trying to prevent a traffic tieup. They were concentrating on the main arteries and on the approaches to the bridges and ferries, over which 170,000 trucks bring New York's food supply daily, to prevent any break in the city's source of supplies.

Severe in Northern New York. The storm was of far greater severity in northern New York. In Buffalo the snow was from seven to twelve inches deep and was swept by the wind into seven foot drifts. Three deaths due to the storm were recorded in and around Buffalo.

The temperature at Syracuse was dropping toward zero tonight with a gale raging, and in Westchester county there was a snowfall of 7½ inches, with a temperature of 8 degrees above zero. Transportation companies were carrying every effort to prevent a blockade of traffic in White Plains, New Rochelle, Mount Vernon and Port Chester. Cattaraugus county reported a 15 inch snow and a 30 mile wind.

County churches in the region of Middletown, N. Y., were obliged to abandon services because the roads were blocked and many automobilists were stalled on the highways.

Storm warnings were issued to vessels all up and down the coast.

Five New England Deaths. Boston, Mass., Dec. 5.—(AP)—On the heels of the coldest Dec. 5 in the history of the local weather bureau, a snowstorm that rapidly assumed blizzard proportions rode over central New England before a northeast gale tonight, bringing five deaths and an increasing threat of a transportation tie-up. Temperatures in northern New England are far below zero.

With a six inch blanket of snow beginning to drift in outlying sections, through trains were delayed from twenty minutes to several hours in reaching this city.

The Blue Hills government observatory reported a wind velocity of forty miles.

TWO DIE IN COLD HERE

Deaths of two men, one in Chicago and another on the outskirts of Gary, were attributed to exposure to cold yesterday, when the temperature fell to an official minimum of 17 degrees above zero at 10 p. m.

Today, according to the forecast, probably will be fair, with the temperature slowly rising. Snow or rain is expected tomorrow.

Maywood Bank Guarded

After Watchman Is Shot

Maywood police were still keeping an armed guard at the Peoples State bank there last night following the shooting Friday night of Henry Franz, watchman at the bank. Police, working under Chief E. H. Dudley, are seeking to trace numerous threats that had been made against Franz in which he was warned to cease his vigil so that a robbery might be perpetrated. When Franz ignored the warnings he was shot and wounded in the arm by a man who drove past him in an automobile just as he was entering his house.

CONGRESS OPENS WITH EYES FIXED ON 1928 HEAVENS

Coolidge and Smith Seen as Brightest Luminaries

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Washington, D. C., Dec. 5.—(Special.)—Any doubt that the 1928 presidential campaign is on was dispelled today as senators and representatives poured into Washington for the final session of the sixty-ninth congress which begins at noon tomorrow.

Politics—with a slant toward 1928—was the uppermost topic. Every important legislative proposal to come before congress at this session is being approached in a fog of politics and the fate of every measure is being divined by the political astrologers by study of the movements of stars and comets of presidential magnitude in their courses.

Coolidge and Smith. The two great luminaries of the political heavens at this time are President Coolidge and Gov. Al Smith of New York, in the opinion of most of the congressional politicians. Each is the outstanding man in his party, each is the foremost figure in the field of 1928 presidential possibilities his party offers.

The most significant, most prophetic result of the November election, in the opinion of many of the returning statesmen of both parties, was the triumph of Gov. Smith in winning reelection to a fourth term and carrying along the Democratic candidate for senator. Significant and prophetic because of the prestige it has given the governor as a candidate for the Democratic nomination—a prestige overshadowing that of any rival, actual or potential.

No Democrat Near Al in Race. Democratic and Republican politicians are approaching the 1928 contest from the viewpoint that Smith must now be regarded as the probable nominee of his party, particularly if the two-thirds rule should be abolished, as has been proposed by Clyde Herring of Iowa, a McAdoo leader in 1924, and seconded by 50 per cent of the Democratic national committee.

The growing belief that Smith will be the nominee is founded largely on the political axiom that you cannot beat somebody with nobody, and at present there appears to be nobody of commanding figure for the Smith opposition to rally around.

The widespread presumption that Smith will be the nominee is further evidenced by soundings which are being made to determine the degree of support that might be expected in the solid south for a candidate who is a wet and a Roman Catholic.

Southern papers are editorializing widely on the subject, the majority evincing unfriendliness to Smith. Southern political leaders appear to be divided and cautious in committing themselves.

The ascendancy of Smith in the Democratic party has produced a profound effect on the maneuvering of factions to capture the Republican nomination. Whether he can beat Al Smith is the question now figuring prominently in judging the availability of each possible Republican candidate.

The Coolidge partisans are calculating that if a year from now the nomination of Smith appears a probability there will be no stopping the Republican renomination of the President.

In the first place they figure that the dries will be thrown into a panic by the prospect of Smith as a candidate for President and will organize an irresistible demand that Mr. Coolidge run again as the only Republican who could be relied upon to defeat the popular and redoubtable wet.

In this appeal, the dries, it is judged, would be joined by a host of Republican leaders, wet as well as dry, who have no particular fondness for the President, but would pick him as best qualified to carry New York in a contest with the New York governor.

In the second place the Coolidge partisans are confident the President would not decline to run if Smith appeared the probable Democratic nominee, believing the Democratic party would be split. And that's also just why the boosters of Lowden, Longworth and Dawes argue that the President is not the only Republican who could beat Smith.

DEVER DECLARES HE'S NEUTRAL IN M'ANDREW WAR

Says School Affairs Are School Board's.

Declaring that his comments were misinterpreted, Mayor Dever denied yesterday he openly has taken one side or the other in the recent school board controversy over the reappointment of Supt. William McAndrew.

induced the stand of Ald. Leo M. Brieste, chairman of the council schools committee, in favor of local men for local offices. Ald. Brieste had used the argument against Mr. McAndrew, who came to Chicago from New York.

Mr. Dever said yesterday, however, that he was not referring to Supt. McAndrew, but was talking about officials in general in cases when there were no modifying circumstances.

"What I said was that, all other things being equal, I favor Chicago officials, because of their acquaintance with the local atmosphere," he said. "But the naming of the superintendent is up to the board of education. It is not my policy to interfere with the board in school affairs."

Referring to the proposal of the council schools committee to ask the new school board appointees, Dr. O. L. Schmidt, Charles Vopika, and Walter J. Rayner, their views on appointing out of town school officials, the mayor said he could see no reason why those persons should not express them. But he reiterated his doubt that they would be willing to pledge themselves for or against a particular official, such as the superintendent.

"Would you say that Mr. McAndrew should be retained?" the mayor was asked.

"No, I would not say that," he replied. "Whether he should be retained or ousted is in the hands of the board."

The school controversy arose following a stormy meeting of Ald. Brieste's committee last Wednesday, when it was decided to make a thorough investigation into board of education affairs before approving the mayor's appointees. Ald. Brieste declared later that the chief objective of the investigation was to pave the way for removing Supt. McAndrew.

OKLAHOMA 2 GUN MAN SLAIN WITH OWN AUTOMATIC

Shot in Bed, He Fights
Assassin in Dark.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Dec. 3.—(United Press.)—Luther Bishop, two gun fighter and "ace" of the criminal investigation bureau of Oklahoma, was shot to death in his bedroom early today with one of his own revolvers.

Awakened by a bullet fired into his body at close range by an unknown assailant, Bishop put up a terrific battle for life, and succumbed only after eight more bullets had struck him.

Even then, as the murderer freed himself from the investigator's clutch and fled, Bishop arose from bed and walked across the room to switch on the electric light before pitching to the floor, dead.

Wife Screams in Terror.

In a bed close by, his wife lay screaming in terror, in such condition that she could give only a hazy account of the murder. Mrs. Bishop was removed to a hospital suffering from a nervous breakdown.

Bishop, a tremendously powerful and fearless man, who had distinguished himself recently by his work in rounding up the Osage murder ring, always slept with an automatic under his pillow and another close beside his bed. It was with the latter weapon that he was killed.

Bishop had made many enemies through his work as an investigator in the Indian case. He had been instrumental in causing the arrest and conviction of W. K. Hale, "king of the Osage hills," and John Ramsey.

Scandals of Southwest.

The operations of the "Osage murder ring" was one of the scandals of the southwest a short time ago. The men involved had won the confidence of Osage Indians, beneath whose large deposits of oil were discovered. As the Indians became suddenly enormously wealthy they appealed to Hale to act as executor. In all, twenty-two Osage Indians and "square men" were killed under suspicious circumstances, and it was proved that Hale and Ramsey benefited by their deaths. The two were convicted and sent to prison for life.

MUSSOLINI AID ASSERTS ITALY AIMS AT PEACE

Italians in America must be just as good citizens here as they would be in Italy, if they would merit the respect of this nation or Benito Mussolini, Luigi Freddi of Rome declared yesterday in an address before 800 Italian-Americans at the Italian hall, 818 North Clark street.

Freddi, who is editor of Mussolini's official newspaper in Rome, the Popolo d'Italia, is in the United States as Mussolini's commissioned representative.

Freddi paid tribute to the dictator, pointing to the new strength in unified Italy, the industrial development, elimination of unemployment, and the growth of patriotism. Italy is not aiming toward war, he said, but is marshaling its forces wholly in the spirit of patriotism and unity, seeking to bring Italy back to the standard it once had under the old Roman empire.

FOR 88 years it has been our pleasure and our satisfaction to provide gifts of distinction, personally selected in the world's best markets, for those who know the joy of giving gifts that have rare individuality and good taste without warping even the slimmest purse. A glimpse of the shops at this season is contained in the suggestions here shown.

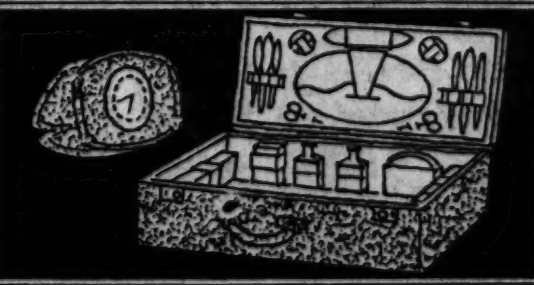

Genuine Dresden services in Watteau designs—yellow, blue or pink backgrounds. Service plates, the doz., $115. Cream soups and stands, $120 the doz.

Royal Worcester English Bone China dinnerware—"open stock"—of turquoise and pink. Dinner plates are $44 dozen.

Bone China service plates, $50 to $750 the dozen. Cauldon after-dinner coffees, $60 the dozen. Royal Worcester after-dinner coffees, $275 the dozen.

Every man inclines toward leather—and our imported leather displays are wide and fascinating. Comb and file in colored leather case, $2.50. Hat and clothes brushes in leather case, $6.50. Bill folds, $3.75 and up. Complete manure set in pig skin case, $12.50.

Procured by our Parisian shopper—fitted cases of marvelous beauty and quality from $75 to $115 each. Sketched is a tooled green leather case with tortoise and leather fittings and leather bound slip cover, $75. The striped leather, radiator dial clock, $25.

Jeweled French gold bronze and crystal creations in dazzling array. The perfume, $15. The handled scent bottle, $5. The figure medallion jewel case, $3.50.

Desk sets for home and office, of marble and bronze and in many styles, are arousing great enthusiasm. The range is from $15 to $350. Sketched is one at $75.

From Lalique, the French master glass designer: Bow with sculptured figures, $15. Mural centered bottle, $37.50. Atomizers, twig and figure design, $10.

Those partisans to leather will be completely won by these embossed leather book ends, from a complete display, at $10 the pair. And the compartment vanity case, in colors is most bewitching—$17.50. Or they may prefer one of the Moroccan portfolios priced at $17.50.

For the theater or opera, choose from these exquisite accessories: Fine Austrian beaded bag, leather lined with mosaic and gold mounting, $62.50. Or the beautiful Italian beaded bag at $75. Or the enameled and pearl opera glasses with brocade bag, $135. Others from $15.

Venetian glass jug, infatigating in color and shape and typical of the beauty of this, the most charming of the glass arts. Each, $16.50.

For the hostess who enjoys the unusual choose this wide handled vase of rich Venetian glass and be certain of warmest appreciation. $22.50 each.

Reminiscent of everything beautiful and worthy of the place of honor in any home are these Venetian glass pieces at $13.75 and $15 each.

This daintily beautiful tortoise shell tea caddy is one of the unique gift opportunities of the Antique Shop (second floor). It is a striking example of English 18th Century handcraft and will make an excellent cigarette box.

An old English silver and crystal caster of late 18th century origin is also from the Antique Shop Christmas displays. With its fragrant memories of days when spices came to the table it will be an unusual addition to any modern setting.

From France to the Antique Shop has come a fine collection of old Redoute flower prints, which are now much sought after and are a novel opportunity for Christmas gifts that cannot be duplicated.

RUSH FOR LUNCH RUINS WELCOME FOR QUEEN MARIE

Royal Train Arrives as Greeters Dine.

BUCHAREST, Roumania, Dec. 5.—(AP)—Home from her turbulent and perhaps triumphant tour of America, Queen Marie spent Sunday in the palace with her ailing spouse and sovereign, King Ferdinand. Although the king's affliction was not severe enough to keep him from meeting his family at the station on their arrival yesterday, well-wishers found little to reassure them in the bulletin issued by Prof. Henri Hartmann, French specialist, and Dr. Regaud, noted radio therapist, who have just been called in for consultation. The bulletin reads: "The results of the first consultation of Drs. Hartmann and Regaud show the recto-sigmoid infection from which the king is suffering presents no modification. The general condition, appetite, and sleep are satisfactory."

Why Reception Flurried.
The arrival of Queen Marie, Princess Ileana and Prince Nicholas at Bucharest lacked the punctual dignity which it is customary to expect at royal functions. The entire diplomatic corps, state officials, prelates, and native aristocracy, arrayed for the occasion, reached the station at 10 o'clock in the morning to await the train, which was due at 11 o'clock. Shortly before noon they were informed that the train would not arrive until two in the afternoon. The red carpets were rolled up and, with the flowers, were carefully put aside in the waiting room. Every one withdrew for lunch.

When the welcoming groups came back at 3 o'clock they learned that the train had pulled in at 1 o'clock and the queen had proceeded to the palace with the king. Some one had had the presence of mind to order the train to wait in the yard for 30 minutes until King Ferdinand could be hurried to the station. Premier Averescu also was notified in time to get back and extend his greetings.

Crowds Gather Too Late.
The king and queen warmly embraced and both wept, as did others, affected by the sight of their reunion. There were few onlookers, however, to this scene, but half an hour later the crowds began to gather in the streets around the station to witness what already had taken place.

SEEN MISSING HUSBAND.
Mrs. Edwin Nelson, of 3808 Kenmore avenue, reported the police last night to search for her husband, who left their home Sunday evening after a quarrel. Nelson is 54 years old and a perfume salesman.

DEMOCRAT TO ASK STECK UNSEATED, PAPER ASSERTS

Des Moines, Ia., Dec. 5.—(AP)—The Des Moines Register tomorrow will say that Senator H. D. Stephens (Dem., Miss.) probably will introduce in the United States senate a resolution asking that Senator Dan Steck (Dem., Ia.) be unseated.

The newspaper says its source of information is local Democrats, not named, who are "admittedly opposed to Steck."

The resolution, the Register says, is founded in "an alleged improper distribution of funds given Senator Steck by the senate for his attorney's fees in the election contest decided in his favor last spring."

ONE LONE JAGUAR ALL-ROOSEVELT WILL FIND IN U. S.

Tucson, Ariz., Dec. 5.—(AP)—One lone jaguar is all there is left in the Arizona mountains for Archie Roosevelt and his party to hunt, the U. S. biological survey reported yesterday.

Two jaguars, natives of the hills farther south than the international boundary, were reported in the Arizona ranges. Fred Ott, government hunter, reduced the number by half yesterday. The biological survey office, which keeps track of predatory animals, says the Roosevelt party will have to go south into Mexico if it expects success.

You have a right to demand that a centerpiece be beautiful, but this one insures on being double in its use: the flower holder is removable, and in that event it holds fruit; silver-plated, 12 inches across, $10.

Consider the convenience of this silver-plated dish—it takes care of three vegetables, or two vegetables and gravy. Besides that the handle is removable from the cover, giving you another dish; 12 inches diameter, $25.

Just to be different, this quaint crystal service has colored bases, dark blue or green, with the body crystal in optic effect goblets $10 dozen, tea set $18, cocktail set $8, whiskey set, champagne set $8, finger bowls $4, finger bowl plates $15.

The hostess who is fully equipped with every silver thing is not to be found, and the very thing she needs may be this sterling steak set, $5.

How about the china cabinet? Would it like to be presented with this simple and dignified service of Limoges; medallions of gay birds and flowers, against a white background? 55 piece service for 6 costs $112.

Don't a mirror to some gloomy corner and it will sparkle with the Christmas spirit every day in the year; this measures 12 by 24, $12, 14 by 28 also, $18, and 16 by 30, $22.

If you are looking at the tea set, be informed that it is good looking English ware with a charming bird and flower pattern, 23 pieces, $25. The little stand folds and may be used as a luggage stand, $15. The tray is tin, ivory colored, decorated with birds and flowers, $20.

The ingenious decorator took a glass vase, either green or amber, fitted it into a brass base, and topped it with a two color geometric shade, 27 inches high, $20.

Everything a smoker can think of or wish for is on this table top. The stand itself is metal with marble base and tray 12 inches square, $12.

Gifts selected now may be held for Christmas delivery

Supply your wandering friend with this writing portfolio, and you'll probably get bulletins on the scenery. Leather case in rose, blue, brown, purple, lined with moire, $6.

Serve the grapefruit in beautiful green glass, and you double its temptation; the set includes 12 glasses, 12 liners, 12 plates, $42. The 5 1/2-inch plates may be bought separately at $12 a dozen.

THE HALL-MILLS MURDER.

The attempt legally to fix guilt in the Hall-Mills murder case has failed. The crime is hardly a mystery to the public mind, we think, but public opinion, fortunately, does not fix legal penalty, and a jury is bound to an extreme degree of certitude. Even if it were not, the handling of the case from the beginning has been a series of bungles, ineptitudes or worse, and it is not surprising that the trial should end as it has. From our distant viewpoint, the prosecution has been extraordinarily tactless and, if there is to be another trial, a more competent management, it seems to us, should be secured. But the first inquiry immediately after the crime was gravely and suspiciously inadequate. We suspect that the most competent management would fail, because we suspect that the morale, or shall we say the intelligence, of the community in which the murder befell is opposed to punishment. We suspect the existence of a judgment against the victims of the crime rather than the criminals and in this moral bog of false sentiment and perverted justice the law finds no footing.

Such situations are not rare in our America. In fact, they are so frequent where crimes of passion are involved that we might better formally try the murdered before we try the murderers. Why not try the Rev. Mr. Hall and his paramour in an open court and, having found them guilty of immorality, save the state the expense of trying any one for putting them away?

IS IT TO BE CONFISCATION OR NOT?

The Mexican embassy at Washington has given out a statement that "rights acquired prior to May 1, 1917, by foreign companies will be confirmed by the Mexican government not only without cost but without the declaration renouncing diplomatic protection required by the law for future acquisitions."

This would be highly gratifying if we did not hear by way of an Associated Press dispatch from Mexico City that the foreign office has no knowledge of the statement, and we must therefore still await an unequivocal response to Mr. Kellogg's very proper and timely inquiries conveyed in the four recently published letters to the Mexican minister of foreign affairs.

There are too long to examine at length in this place, but the gist of the points raised is this: The secretary of state wishes to know whether the alien land and petroleum laws passed last December and January, and which upon their face imply retroactive force, are to be applied retroactively in fact or are to be interpreted and enforced so as to protect the rights of Americans lawfully acquired prior to the constitution of 1917. He is not satisfied, and no sensible mind could be satisfied, with the statements of the Mexican foreign office on the subject. For example, the alien land law requires that foreign companies holding stock in Mexican companies shall dispose of such corporate interests in excess of 49 per cent within 10 years. The actual effect of such a provision is to force aliens to get rid of their stock over 49 per cent upon any terms obtainable within 10 years. The Mexican foreign minister defended this because 10 years is a "long period" and alleges it is not confiscatory because the right of ownership is recognized. He also contended that it is not retroactive "because it does not harm acquired rights, since the form in which a foreigner holds a right may be changed by a foreigner as long as the right in its essence is respected."

Mr. Kellogg's answer points out that this means in fact that Americans who have made investments in reliance upon unqualified titles would be obliged to accept concessions of manifestly lesser scope and value. Of course, such action would confiscate a part of the value, and in possible, if not indeed probable, circumstances a large part of the value of their property. It would be plainly, as Mr. Kellogg says, a forced exchange of a greater for a lesser estate. This is confiscation and retroactivity in fact.

We are told by Americans who are so tremblingly anxious to prevent Americans from "exploiting" other countries that they care nothing that Americans may be exploited—that our state department is objecting hastily—after months of correspondence. But Americans who have a decent regard for the rights and interests of their own countrymen will approve Mr. Kellogg's efforts to protect them. The position taken by the state department in its effort to prevent the confiscation of the property of Americans lawfully acquired in Mexico will have the hearty support of all Americans who have the sense to see that the material welfare of others. Our government is asking only for justice to its citizens. It asks only that Mexico shall respect rights acquired under its own laws and not take them away without just compensation. If the American citizen of our government is willing to have their own property taken without compensation by retroactive laws, we should hear their protests with less contempt. But they are not. They are indulging in a bogus altruism at other men's expense.

POLITICAL MORALITIES IN NORTH DAKOTA.

President Coolidge gave a recess appointment to Col. G. F. Mudgett to be United States marshal in North Dakota. Col. Mudgett was recommended by L. B. Hanna. Mr. Hanna managed the President's campaign in North Dakota. He also ran against Senator Nye this year for the nomination and was beaten. Nevertheless, his man got the job and both Nye and Senator Frasier are fighting mad. They were supposed to be reconciled to their regular Republican brethren in the senate and were to play ball with them in maintaining Republican control of the organization. They are badly needed for that purpose. They have let it be known since the Mudgett appointment that they are wildly not reconciled.

Nye and Frasier are among the senators who take a high tone when they learn that some candidate for the senate has used a war chest in conducting his campaign. The inquiry generally is not whether the campaign fund was honorably obtained and honestly spent. The moralistic senators are against the use of money in promoting a campaign if the amount runs over ten cents to a congressional district. But they are mightily interested in patronage, which is the use of public money for political purposes. If ten citizens thought so much of a candidate's usefulness to his state and country that they would contribute each $10,000 toward his nomination the moralistic senators would find it a scandal. If $100,000 of public money spent in pay rolls is used in promoting their campaigns to maintain their places in the senate, that is nothing but senatorial courtesy.

The public money may be used to keep a worthless senator in his place and if the senate can establish a rule that no citizen shall contribute anything but taxes for use in campaigns, the men who are in will be sitting pretty for the rest of their lives.

The moral background of a good deal of virtue in Washington is a desire to keep competition out of the field and deprive other candidates from having even the price of postage stamps. THE TRIBUNE objects to the dishonest use of money in politics as well as the dishonest making of money in politics and will stand on its record in this respect, but the first requisite of political morality is to get on the square with itself.

MISSOURI RIVER STUFF.

The health department says Chicago's water may be drunk these days without fear of catching anything. The news will be reassuring to a good many citizens who have had their doubts about it. Anyway, the water is disgusting to look upon and we expect the damage to plumbing from sand is enormous. Filtration plants will cost a good deal of money, but it is obvious that we have to have them.

COURT SMUT.

At best, there is nothing fragrant about the divorce courts. We are struck, however, with the peculiarity of odor which comes from the court of Justice Morschauer in New York. The handling of the Stillman case in that court left something to be desired from the point of view of public decency, and the anticipatory smacking of the lips now that the Peachey Browning case is about to come up forebodes no improvement.

Much depends in these matters upon the court. The judge cannot rule out relevant testimony, but he can, at any rate, see to it that the evidence is presented as to a physician in his clinic rather than as to looters in the shadows of a garage. When Justice Morschauer announces that the contents of an affidavit in the Browning case are "so salacious" that it is to be kept under lock and key until the trial, and is to be made available to the attorneys only after an elaborate hocus-pecus of sealing and unsealing, we find reason to fear that the handling of the Browning trial will not be exactly aseptic. Why advertise the smut? Why build up curiosity for it? These tactics add nothing to the dignity of the bench or to popular respect for the processes of justice.

Editorial of the Day

FARMERS AND BUSINESS MEN.

[The Peoria Transcript.]

The attack of Representative Dickinson, farm leader of Iowa, on the "business men's commission on agriculture" organized by the national industrial conference board and the national chamber of commerce doubtless will gain wide publicity for the legislator, but there is a very grave question whether it is either in good taste or a judicious boost for farm relief legislation.

Representative Dickinson adopts the attitude that the problem is primarily a matter for farmer consideration, and he flatly charges that the proposal of the "business men's commission" is an unofficial filibuster to prevent immediate passage of farm relief legislation.

All of this may be good business for a demagogue, but it is scarcely the attitude that would lead to the belief that farm leadership is reposing in the hands of men with statesmanlike qualities or moderate temperaments. Representative Dickinson is inviting contempt from the members of the commission, and upsetting whatever possible cooperative plan might be evolved out of its deliberations.

While the thoughtful farmer probably is convinced that his best chance for farm aid legislation is to be found through organizing his own kind into a sufficiently powerful political bloc to command some congressional attention, he will not make the mistake of antagonizing the interests represented in the chamber of commerce of America by resorting to bitter attacks upon the machinery it creates with the avowed purpose of aiding him. Neither politics nor big business attain their ends by this method. Representative Dickinson is betraying the characteristic provincialism which may appeal to many of his discontented constituents, but he is missing an obvious opportunity to take advantage of the publicity which might be gained for farm relief by accepting the aid of the business men with a suavity and moderation.

Much of the trouble with farm relief may be traced to the hysteria of the farmers. Some of the hysteria is created by the extravagance and intolerance of their leaders.

HEART MURMUR AND WHAT TO DO.

WHEN David learns accidentally or otherwise that her child has a heart murmur, the chances are that she will become panicky. She will fret over her child to bed for a prolonged period and follow that with a life program dominated by "don't's."

Physicians find that a heart murmur in children may mean either a very serious disease, or one requiring nothing more than periodic examinations, or no disease at all.

The reaction of a parent who learns that her child has a heart murmur should lead to further investigation and observation, and not to a better quality of more good meat, bread, milk, vegetables and fruit; a little more sleep; a little more sunshine; and surroundings that are a little more sanitary.

When there are foci of infection these contribute to the malnutrition and, in that way, indirectly, to the kidney trouble.

MEAT SUBSTITUTES. Mrs. K. writes: "What can take the place of meat and eggs? They are so high."

1. Do beans and lentils just as good? 2. Do canned goods for a long time retain all their nourishment, even though they have not spoiled?

REPLY. 1. Nothing supplies the entire need perfectly. 2. Not quite.

3. The diet is not perfectly prepared they degenerate slowly. Under proper circumstances, they degenerate very slowly in the course of six to seven years. Twenty-five years is another matter.

ADVICE ON NEPHRITIS. M. L. writes: "1. What is nephritis and what causes it? 2. What is meant by 'low grade nephritis'?"

REPLY. 1. Inflammation of the kidneys. Many people call it Bright's disease. 2. Mild inflammation of the kidneys.

3. Usually. 4. If the trouble is mild, the diet should consist largely of vegetables, sweets and fruits, with a fair amount of milk and butter. The ordinary allowance of meat and bread should be cut about half. Later on meat and eggs should be eaten.

CONTRIBUTORS' DAY!

ah, yes, indeed; but still, contribute, you want to know how many Linebooks went forth into the world on Saturday, don't you? Certainly. All right, we'll tell you—10,000! That's a record, but—why, asks Laura, were not more sold? Because, dearie, that's all there were—there weren't any more. But all Saturday and yesterday the great presses were grinding and the lovely home girls who put on the covers were putting on the covers and the big trucks were plying back and forth between the Pub. Serv. Off. and the bindery, and bright and early this morning there will be 70,000 more 1926 Linebooks ready for the customers.

A poet could spin a gossamer song about that sunset yonder; he could weave with words a painting of those blended inaccessible colors rioting in the evening sky. He would, perhaps, compare that lovely, lovely blue to her eyes—that cloud-subdued gold to her hair. He might call that pool of effervescence fire "Waters of Paradise." The poet will write his verse some day and I will buy it. I will read it—like a peasant with the soul of a musician, who stands helplessly and hungrily before a golden harp—perhaps plucking the strings awkwardly with his fingers.

AND, CONTRIB—It's your day, all right—but we've got to say something about Linebook Night next Wednesday, December 8th, on W-G-N, from half past ten to twelve o'clock midnight. That night is going to be somewhat in the nature of a festa or carnival. It is a celebration in honor of the coming forth of the Linebook of 1926, and music will predominate, although we'll have any number of your favorite contributors to read their beautiful prose and poetry. Eusebio Donatelli is going to sing "Lun Dee's 'Weave Me a Dream' and Mabel's 'Road to Vaux'; Alexius Deas, George Carroll's 'Nocturne' and 'Go Lightly, Wind,' and Daniel Prather's double quartet will sing Dixie's 'Longing for Virginia' and E. D. B's 'O Lord, Look Down.' Isaac Van Grove, who wrote the music to 'The Road to Vaux,' and Victor Saar, the composer of 'Weave Me a Dream,' will play the accompaniments. Then Helen R. (whose work-portfolio you will remember from the 1925 Linebook) will play her 'Tango Simpatia'—AND when we asked Dennis King if he'd sing the 'Song of the Vagabonds' for you, he smiled in that nice, boyish way of his and said, 'Of course I will.'

DECEMBER 6, 1861.

ST. LOUIS.—Gen. Halleck's order for the quarantining of the Union vessels in the harbor of the south-west in the houses of avowed secessionists and feeding and clothing them at their expense has created great excitement among the people. The sanitary commission is in charge of attending to the wants of the refugees. It is to make requisitions on the provost marshal for accommodation, and he will then select empty houses belonging to the secession and call upon secession merchants for articles required. Union men are highly delighted with the order and praise for Gen. Halleck is on every lip.

WASHINGTON.—The report of Secretary of the Navy Welles shows a total of 264 vessels, 2,577 guns and 22,000 seamen. The estimates submitted for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1862, total $44,625,565.

EDITORIAL.—The two orders emanating respectively from the departments of state and treasury demonstrate two things. One is that a fugitive from a rebel master is no more to be arrested on the Potomac. He is to be set at work or he is free. By the second it is evident at last the government is about to make one hand wash the other. The rules are specifically and clearly laid down by Secretary Chase for the employment of means to convert rebel property and crops to the use of the government, and at the same time the slaves of rebel masters are to be set to work, under special government agents. Let the friends of freedom thank God, and take courage.

CHICAGO.—Recent marriages reported were the following: John Elliott and Mrs. Mary Hartin; Isaac B. Seeley and Miss Helen R. Walker; James Gowanlock and Miss Elizabeth McAdams; and George H. Foss of Sturgeon Bay, Wis., and Mrs. Cordelia Smith of Chicago.

CHICAGO.—At a dinner given by S. W. Allerton at the Union League club $33,750 was pledged toward the establishment of a home for delinquent boys. Among the donors were the following: Mr. Allerton, $5,000; H. E. Weston, $5,000; Victor Falkenberg, $5,000; Julius Rosenberg, $2,500; S. W. Allerton Jr., $1,000; J. C. Shaffer, $1,000; and H. C. Lottin, $1,000. Promoters of the project now have nearly $150,000 to be used for the purpose.

LONDON.—Herbert H. Asquith, premier of Great Britain for eight stormy years, resigned, and the king accepted his resignation. Andrew Bonar Law, Unionist leader, has been offered the post of prime minister, but he has not made a decision on accepting it. It was confirmed that David Lloyd George had resigned as war minister, but his resignation has not been accepted. The influence of Lord Northcliffe undoubtedly was one of the important factors in this chapter of history. He and Mr. Lloyd George have formed an alliance since the war began, and the Northcliffe newspapers have for some time put forward Lloyd George as "the strong man" of the country needed.

LONDON.—The last hope of the allied forces of saving Bucharest has vanished. While the German armies have moved steadily toward the capital the Russian offensives in the Carpathians, eastern Transylvania, and Dobruja appear to have been completely checked. The enemy is now only seven miles from Bucharest.

CHICAGO.—It is practically settled that the great Michigan avenue improvement is being extended to the Michigan avenue from Randolph street to Chicago avenue—will go through without further legal delay. M. J. Fahey, president of the board of local improvements, and George A. Mason, representing most of the protesting property owners, reached a compromise by which it is expected the cases in court will be dismissed.

Then further you state "The citizens of Ontario are more fortunate than the citizens of Illinois." Illinois and the rest of the country could be just as fortunate as Ontario if they showed a little consistency when going to the polls. GERMANY PAYS $291,000,000 TO ALLIES IN YEAR

U. S. Gets $4,660,000 of Dawes Plan Levy.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
BERLIN, Dec. 5.—Germany paid $291,000,000 in reparations as the second annuity of the Dawes plan payments. This brings the total paid under the provisions of the Dawes plan to $299,000,000, the American agent general, Seymour Parker Gilbert Jr., announced in his second annual report today.

Before the Dawes plan was evolved, the allies received from Germany bonds, these which were estimated by Germany at $11,162,000,000, while the allies listed the value at $2,843,000,000 and the neutral experts fixed at $19,450,000,000. Together with the payments made, according to the Dawes plan, this brings the total reparations paid by Germany, according to the neutral experts, to $19,979,000,000.

Pays from Own Pocket.
The funds for the second Dawes annuity were raised in Germany itself by means of payments from the German budget, by the German railroads

GOOD COOKING, HARD WORK, TWO SECRETS OF HAPPY MARRIED LIFE

Wichita, Kas., Dec. 5.—(AP)—"My wife's good cooking is the reason we have always been happy," William Johnson said today on his sixty-fifth wedding anniversary. His wife, who is 89 years old, smiled at the compliment her 91 year old husband paid her, and added: "A happy married life just takes hard work—there is no other secret."

The Johnsons aren't critical of the younger generation.

"You see, we reared eight children of our own, have seventeen grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren, so we understand them pretty well," Mr. Johnson explained.

"They don't have the same ideas we did when we were young, but times have changed. They are just trying to get the most out of life, as we all do—only their method is different."

and industry, and not through a loan, as was done the first year under the Dawes plan administration.

More than half the funds turned over by Germany as the second annuity from Sept. 1, 1925, to Aug. 31, 1926, represented interest on the German railway bonds, which were mortgaged for reparations. The budgetary contribution was 250,000,000 gold marks ($62,500,000), while the interest on the industrial debentures was 125,000,000 marks ($31,250,000) and the transport tax 241,000,000 marks ($60,250,000).

France received the greatest share of the second Dawes annuity. It also received the largest payments of the first annuity. This year's payments to France amounted to $145,885,000 in cash and deliveries in kind.

Great Britain ranked second in this year's reparations roll with $56,782,000. Italy, Belgium and Jugo-Slavia followed, while the United States, in sixth position, received funds for the settlement of mixed claims amounting to $4,660,000.

Cash Transferred to U. S.

"The total share of the United States government amounted to about $5,000,000, including an accumulation balance of $3,445,000 carried over from the first annuity year," the report says. "The United States government received during the year the dollar equivalent of 14,859,000 gold marks as a cash transfer."

"It also has taken at the end of the year 10,032,000 gold marks in their dollar equivalent ($2,508,000) as a result of a special arrangement with the German government substantially analogous to an agreement for financing deliveries of kind. A balance remained at the end of the annuity year to the credit of the United States on the books of the agent general. It has since been transferred to the United States."

Seen Revision Necessary in Future.
Mr. Gilbert's summary expresses great satisfaction at the results obtained in the Dawes plan's workings thus far but states that when European stabilization becomes general, it will be necessary "to reorganize the whole reparations scheme to permit Europe to move further forward on the path of peaceful restoration, which it now has definitely entered."

"The execution of the plans proceeded normally throughout the second year," the report continues. "Germany has made loyalty and punctually the payments required and has also cooperated helpfully in making arrangements for facilitating the future payments."

The agent general makes use for the first time of his right to criticize the German government's financial methods. Bavaria and the small federal states of Germany are told that they are spending too much.

BORDEN'S MILK 14c a Quart

So good and so pleasing that it should be the basis of all meal-planning. Because milk is everywhere recognized as the most important source of calcium (lime), a quart a day should be used by every growing boy and girl for the building of strong bones and sound teeth.

NOTE: This milk is by far the most widely used of the three Borden's Milks. For decades it has been the favorite in the homes of Chicago and surrounding suburbs.

BORDEN'S "SELECTED" 17c a Quart

The name is on the hooded cap

The improved drinking milk. Preferred by many for its sweet natural taste. Introduced four years ago and gaining new friends daily.

BORDEN'S CERTIFIED MILK 25c a Quart 15c a Pint

An unpasteurized milk produced under rules and regulations laid down by the Medical Milk Commission of the Chicago Medical Society.

Ask the Borden Milkman in your neighborhood for further details regarding each of these three milks.

GOVERNOR AND 8 PALS FACE RUM CHARGES TODAY

Mobile, Ala., Dec. 5.—(AP)—Gov. W. W. Brandon of Alabama and eight friends and a Negro servant face trial tomorrow for violating the state prohibition law. The arrests grew out of a raid on McQueen's hunting camp on Magnolia river near Foley, Ala.

Sheriff Stuart, at Bay Minette, Baldwin county, where the trial is to be held, said tonight he expects Gov. Brandon, David R. Castleman, William Castleman, business man of Louisville, Ky.; Addison R. Smith, vice president of the Louisville and Nashville railroad, with headquarters at Louisville; Artieus Mullin, newspaper man on the staff of the Montgomery Advertiser; Joe Beth, Carr McCormick, Jack Daniels of Birmingham; Charles P. Anderson of Montgomery, brother-in-law of Governor Elbert Graves, and Will R. Reed, a Negro servant, to appear in court. Sheriff Stuart said if they do not appear he will take steps to have them brought to trial.

Gov. Brandon delivered a memorial address today to the Elks' lodge at Jackson, Tenn. He is scheduled to return to Montgomery some time tomorrow.

Christmas at Lyon & Healy's

WABASH AVENUE AT JACKSON BOULEVARD * * * * * EVERYTHING KNOWN IN MUSIC

Order Now for Christmas!

There is certain to be a shortage of many Orthophonic Victrola models before Christmas. Select your instrument now, while stocks are complete, to insure Christmas delivery.

New Orthophonic Victrola Radiola Combination $375

This excellent combination of the artistry of Orthophonic and Radiola pictured above is an Orthophonic Victrola with a 5-tube Radiola receiving set. It has no exposed speaker. Very low in price, considering the beauty and tone of this remarkable combination. This Radiola has 4 powerful UX-100 tubes and one UX-120 tube. This combination is known as No. 73. Ready for Christmas. And available under the Lyon & Healy plan of ownership.

New Victor Electrola-Radiola Combination
$900

Instead of the acoustical method of reproduction used by the Orthophonic, this instrument, known as the Victor Electrola, plays records by electrical pickup. It is combined with the famous 8-tube Radiola Super-heterodyne. Everything is operated from the house current. No batteries are required, there is no exposed speaker and no outside wires. This model, known as the "Hyperion" has a cabinet of Italian style, finished in walnut, with blended maple overlays.

New Orthophonic Electrola-Radiola
$1000

The most advanced type of music reproducing instrument produced by the Victor Company. It reproduces music from records two ways, acoustically through the Orthophonic and electrically through the Electrola. And with it is combined the 8-tube Super-heterodyne. Complete operation is obtained from the house current—no batteries, no outside wires, no exposed speaker. Italian Renaissance cabinet; finished in walnut. And available under the Lyon & Healy plan of ownership.

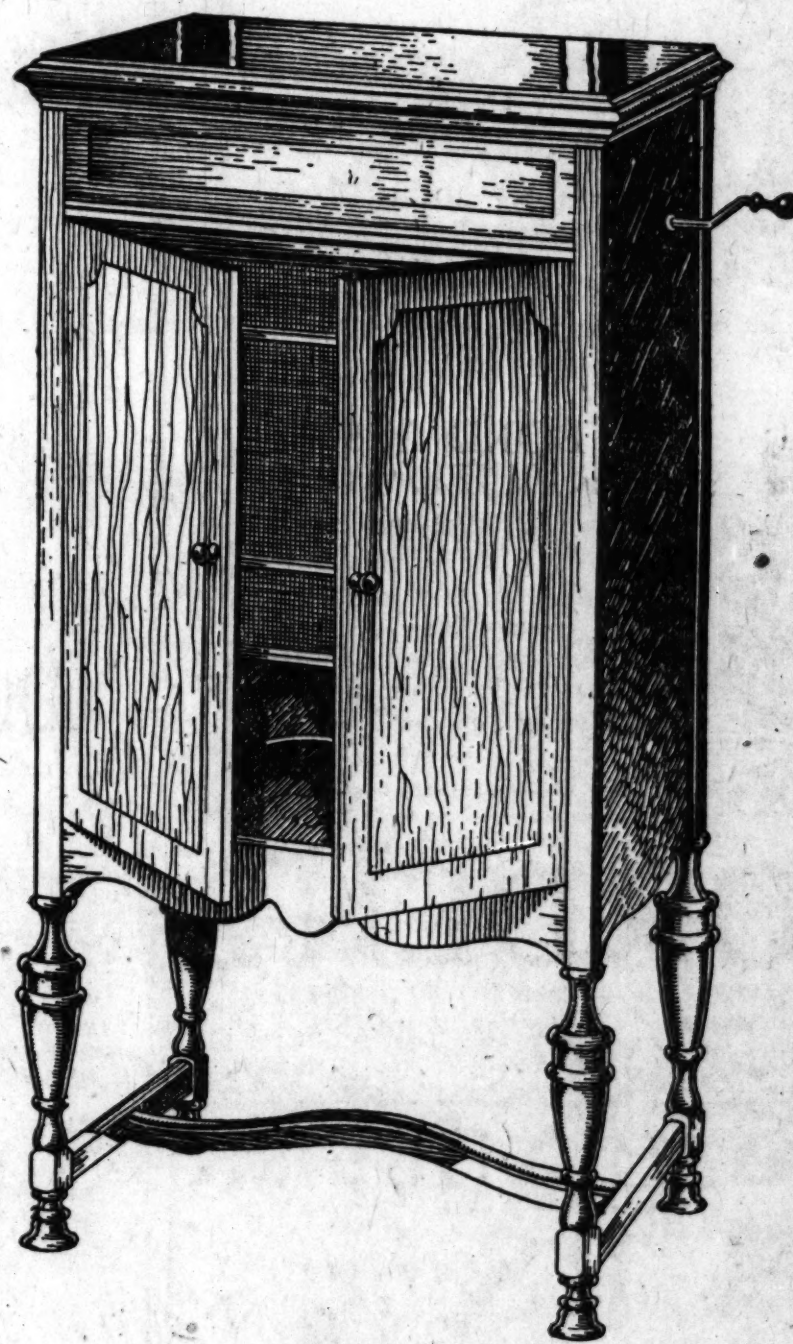

New Orthophonic VICTROLAS

HERE at Lyon & Healy's, all ready for Christmas, are those astounding new marvels of music, the new Orthophonic Victrolas—and their co-stars, the new Radiola combinations. So marvelous are these new Orthophonic Victrolas there's no wonder so many hundreds of Chicago music-loving homes will have them Christmas morning to replace their old phonographs—marvels of other years, but today completely and dramatically eclipsed by these wonders of a new music era—the new Orthophonic Victrolas and Radiola combinations. Ready for Christmas.

This new Orthophonic Victrola

This beautiful new Orthophonic Victrola pictured at the right is the improved "Consolette." Its richness and deepness of tone are made possible through its Orthophonic construction—a richness in tone that would make one estimate its price at far above $95. It is especially well suited for the smaller home or apartment. The two-tone mahogany cabinet is in the lovely Sheraton Colonial fashion. Equipped with an automatic stop, and a spring motor that runs ten minutes without rewinding. Available under the Lyon & Healy plan of ownership. All ready for Christmas.

All Orthophonic Victrolas easily yours under Lyon & Healy ownership plan

All of the beautiful new models of Orthophonic Victrolas, and Radiola combinations—from $95 to $1000—are all available under the generous Lyon & Healy plan of ownership. This plan surely makes very simple the owning of one of these wonderful instruments.

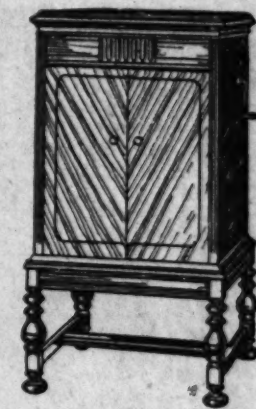

You simply pay over an extended period of time, rather than disturbing your savings in any way. All of these Orthophonic Victrolas are ready for Christmas—and, to repeat, all are offered under the Lyon & Healy generous plan of ownership.

Allowance Made on Old Phonographs

As part payment for these new and wonderful Orthophonic Victrolas, Lyon & Healy accepts your old phonographs. This, in connection with the generous Lyon & Healy plan of ownership, makes it especially easy for a home to have all the music happiness that goes with the owning of a new and wonderful Orthophonic Victrola.

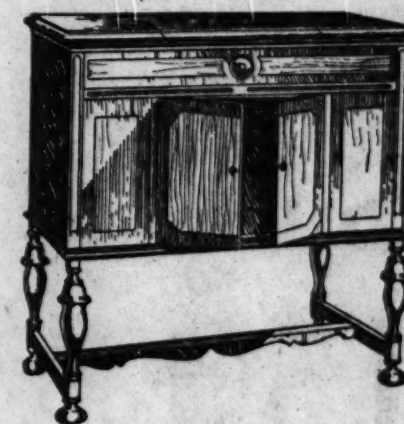

Auditorium Orthophonic Victrola Recitals—Lyon & Healy Concert Hall
Beginning Today and all this week, a program of Christmas Victor Records will be played continuously from 11 a. m. to 4 p. m. each day.

OPEN EVENINGS UNTIL CHRISTMAS

This New Orthophonic Victrola
$125

A small cabinet, designed particularly for the room of modest dimensions. Yet its tone, because of its Orthophonic construction is remarkably deep and rich. It is really amazing that such beautiful music can come from so small an instrument. An Italian Renaissance pattern of high attractiveness finished in mahogany. Electric motor $35 extra. Available under the Lyon & Healy generous plan of ownership. Model No. 47.

This model, No. 44, is pleasing to the eye, because its cabinet is truly a work of art. It is in the Spanish style, so popular these days, and finished in a rich two-tone and blended mahogany. Equipped with electric motor at an additional cost of $35. Available under the Lyon & Healy plan of ownership.

This New Orthophonic Victrola
$235

Above is pictured Model No. 84. A brand new instrument and surely an excellent one. In either walnut or mahogany finish, most artistically blended, and in the exquisite Italian Renaissance style. Its remarkable motor runs 20 minutes without rewinding. Electric motor $35 extra. This new Orthophonic Victrola is ready for Christmas at $235. Available under the Lyon & Healy generous plan of ownership.

This New Orthophonic Victrola
$300

The famous "Credenza" model—the highest development of the Orthophonic Victrola. Its tone chamber is 70 inches in total length, reproducing the lowest bass voice or the highest soprano voice with amazing fidelity. In walnut or mahogany, blended, with Italian Renaissance decorations. Electric motor is $35 additional. Available under the Lyon & Healy plan of ownership.

It is the business of a few men to guess what many women want. On the correctness of their guess much depends—all the big difference between profit and loss—between success and failure in business.

Their job would be much easier if all women knew what they want—but they don't. Leaders among women know what they want—and they get it! The women who follow want what the leaders want and take what the leaders demand.

That is why the wise business man, whose success depends upon correctly guessing what many women will want, has always kept an eagle eye on the woman who leads.

Cover Design by Helen Dryden

He will find her in ever increasing numbers among the readers of Delineator. With the November issue, the first at the 25 cent price, we guaranteed a paid circulation of 1,250,000, but bearing in mind the greatly increased sales of the previous issue, we made the November print order 1,625,000. Within 8 days our home office supply was completely exhausted and we were telegraphing all over the country trying to round up stray copies for re-orders.

Under the circumstances it is obvious that Delineator advertisers today are getting a most decided bonus circulation of an exceptionally high quality.

Delineator Circulation & Advertising

Steadily increasing advertising lineages, close following upon rapidly growing circulation, is the best evidence of Delineator's progress. Since the combination of the Designer with Delineator, the guaranteed circulation has been 1,250,000. November print order of 1,625,000, the first issue at the new 25 cent price, was exhausted 8 days after Delineator went on sale. Obviously, a most decided bonus circulation of exceptionally high quality is still available to advertisers.

HENRY VAN DYKE

EDMUND DULAC

EDMUND DULAC, the famous English artist, has painted a series of exquisite color panels to illustrate this appealing new version of Henry Van Dyke's world-famous Christmas story. Here is unfolded the tale of the journey of the Fourth Wise Man to do homage to the new King. Always he finds himself torn between his desire to help some fellow man in distress and the feeling that he must hasten to see the King.

In a separate article, Henry Van Dyke tells how he happened to write "The Other Wise Man"—this amazing story that began its career as a rejected manuscript but has since been translated into many languages and has sold to the extent of over a million copies in the United States alone.

NAVY AS BOSS OF SAMOA PLEASES 90% OF NATIVES

Call Civil Government Plan Too Expensive.

BY PARKE BROWN.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
UNITED STATES NAVAL STATION, TUTUILA, American Samoa, Dec. 5.—"Ninety per cent of the natives of American Samoa," former Gov. Edwin D. T. Pollock wrote, "are satisfied with the form of government they now have."

He made this statement in a letter to Secretary of the Navy Wilbur early this year after President Coolidge was notified of Senator Irvine L. Lenroot's intention to introduce a bill substituting a civil government, coupled with a United States District court, for the present form of administration through the naval station commandant, who asks advice of the native congress annually and enforces orders and regulations through the chiefs acting as district, county, and village heads and also as magistrates and policemen.

Evans Opposed Civil Rule.
In 1921 Capt. Waldo Evans, who headed the board of inquiry into the affairs here during the previous year and later became governor, wrote to the then Secretary of the Navy Denby, strongly recommending that no action be taken to change the form of government. He said a civil government would be unwarrantedly expensive to the United States and too much of a burden on the natives, and would also open the field to political and personal ambition.

At the native congress, or "fono," last month, the present governor, Capt. Henry F. Brown, who because of his administrative ability was called from the retired list to take this post, told the assembled chiefs, "There are very great difficulties in the way of establishing a civil government here. To establish headquarters for the civil government, with a home for the governor, home for the judge and other houses, as well as offices and headquarters, would mean the expenditure of a large sum of money. I am sure that the Samoans would be unable to stand the high cost of such a scheme. And I am certain that the United States government, certainly at the present time, is not willing to spend the necessary money."

Do Not Pay Naval Officers.
"All the heads of the departments, who now are naval officers and therefore serving without expense to the islands' government, would have to be replaced by civilians, who would have to receive adequate pay. I am sure that the Samoans would be unable to stand the high cost of such a scheme. And I am certain that the United States government, certainly at the present time, is not willing to spend the necessary money."

dant of the station, it is difficult to keep peace; and with two separate governments, running from the station, peace would be practically impossible."

Agitators Remain Silent.
No discussion was started by any of the forty-nine delegates present and the subject was not raised again during the long proceedings, although some active workers of the "Samoa cause" were present. This movement is believed to be the inspiration secretly responsible for the proposal for a civil government now pending in congress.

"The islands already have a civil government and it is enforcing the laws and customs of the Samoan people with such modifications as are deemed necessary and proper for the welfare of the Samoan islands," wrote Secretary Wilbur to President Coolidge when the latter referred to him for comment on Senator Lenroot's letter saying he intended to introduce his bill.

POLISH FASCISTI TO SEEK CHURCH RULE OF NATION

Would Abolish Ballot and Parliament.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
WARSAW, Poland, Dec. 4.—Having failed to win Marshal Jozef Pilsudski or the Conservatives who are backing Prince Janusz Radziwili over to the principles of Fascism, Maroman Dmowski, who controls the conservative faction of western Poland, is now pushing the organization of the "camp of greater Poland," and the "Pan-Polish union." He proposes to spread "fascist" principles in Poland and undermine the Pilsudski regime.

GIVE them PERTUSSIN at once. It will soothe the cough quickly, loosen the sticky, germ-laden phlegm that often clogs the air passages. It is absolutely harmless and free from "dope" (such as narcotics, chloroform, camphor or other injurious drugs). Children like its taste, and it will not upset the digestion. For over 20 years PERTUSSIN has been the most widely used remedy for whooping cough. It is good for any cough of any member of the family—and it soothes the severity of baby's cough.

among members of the National Christian party.
His program provides for the adoption of a "hierarchical government" and the abolition of elections and parliamentary government. Officers of his proposed government are to be chosen from the ranks of the Catholic Fascist party.

Proclaim Aims at Church Service.
The proclamation of the aims of the Pan-Polish union were celebrated today with Te Deum services at the Posen cathedral to emphasize the purely Catholic character of the movement as opposed to that of Prince Radziwili and Marshal Pilsudski, who are willing to work with Poles of all creeds and extractions.

Because of its religious backing, the new party is expected to represent an important factor in the realignment of the fermenting forces of Poland's political life, but Marshal Pilsudski's position is believed strong enough to balk the Catholic Fascist scheme.

To demonstrate its power and strafe the parties for opposing its decree muzzling the press of the country, the Pilsudski government has worked out two new press edicts with sharper teeth.

Refuses Loan by U. S. Bankers.
The first of the edicts clamps the muzzle not only on writers and publishers, but also on private citizens whose private conversation may be interpreted as detrimental to the government, for which they may be sentenced to heavy fines and jail the same as the newspapers.

Without a special suit being filed the authorities automatically can punish all expressions interpreted as disrespectful to the president, Marshal Pilsudski, the chairman of the senate and the senate, the premier, the cabinet ministers, all high officials and other officers. Even if the truth of the accusation can be proven, its defamatory character is punishable. The lower courts will decide the fines and jail sentences.

The second edict compels newspapers to publish on the front pages all government denials.

While Poland's political life is in effervescence, financially the country has progressed. Through the export of coal to England during the miners' strike and thanks to the excellence of this year's crops, Poland has succeeded in balancing the budget.

This enabled it today to refuse a loan of $15,000,000 by Dillon, Read & Co. of New York, for which it applied last spring. When the loan was negotiated Poland protested against the high price charged by the American bankers, but its finances were in a state of turmoil then and it was forced to accept the conditions.

Now Poland asserts that in view of the improvement in finances, America has entered into negotiations with a representative of J. Pierpont Morgan & Co. for loan.

RIVER YIELDS POSTMAN'S BODY.

Do Your Heels
Run Over?

If so the heel bone is twisted and can be QUICKLY

Run-over heels is the danger signal. It means the heel bone is twisted, throwing the whole delicate arch system of the foot out of balance, bringing various troubles, such as flat foot, weak ankles, fallen arches, or corns, callouses, and bunions. Pains in feet and legs, excessive perspiration of the feet, cramps, and similar troubles are due to misplacement of the bones in the foot structure. All of these are usually quickly relieved and instantly disappear under the gentle ministrations of Nature-Treads. Unlike other appliances, Nature-Treads adjust the real cause of the trouble, and nature does the rest. Not "crutches" or habit-forming supports. Light, flexible leather and fibre—no metal. Just slip Nature-Treads into your shoes and walk with a new feeling of comfort and freedom. Enjoy healthy, painless feet.

3,000 FARMERS HERE TODAY FOR ANNUAL MEETING

Some time within the next three days, before the close of the convention of the American Farm Bureau Federation which opens this morning at the Sherman hotel, the voice of organized agriculture will speak and present its case for the consideration of the people and the politicians of the country. Three thousand delegates from forty-five states and 1,800 communities will attend the convention.

That they will speak out for the farmers is the prediction of those whose province it is to know what legislation may be expected from the convention. These agree that following the address of Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois, who is favored by many farmers for the presidential nomination in the next campaign, resolutions will be offered that will reflect the attitude of the convention toward its future program, including the federal farm relief bill, twice defeated but still alive.

Legislation to Be Urged.

"It may be too early to predict what legislative demands organized agriculture will make on congress," Sam H. Thompson of Quincy, president of the federation, said yesterday. "There will, however, be no wavering in the demand for the passage of legislation designed to relieve the farmer from the unjust punishment he suffers through production of a surplus of some products in response to the demands of natural conditions."

"For two years congress has been bedegged by some groups for remedial legislation without definite results. During the last twelve months not only agriculture but also industry and commerce have come to a keen realization of the vital necessity of correcting the unequal balance which has so greatly lessened the power of the farmer as a purchaser of the products of industry and commerce. We are hoping to see much good accomplished here."

To Exhibit Farm Devices.

The convention will witness the first annual exposition of the farm bureau, which will include exhibits of many labor saving devices for the farmer and his wife, contributing to the raising of standards of living and working.

Announcement was made yesterday of plans for a study expedition to Europe headed by President Thompson and Frank Evans of Salt Lake City, general marketing counsel of the federation, which will include 500 farmers and will sail July 29 of next year, returning Sept. 26. Electricity, irrigation, and land reclamation in Germany, waste land reclamation in Denmark and Germany, and slaughtering, meat and egg packing in Denmark will be studied on the tour. England, France, Scotland, Belgium, Germany, Holland, Denmark, and the Isle of Jersey will be visited.

The Finest of All Christmas Gifts! ANGLO-PERSIAN RUGS

What an ideal gift for the entire family! A gift that all may enjoy for years with unending satisfaction and greater pride than perhaps any other gift. Far famed for their beauty and wearing qualities and rivalled only by hand-woven masterpieces of the Orient, Anglo-Persian rugs are admittedly the finest American rugs made. Woven closely of specially selected worsted yarn, they possess a natural lustre of fleece—that silk-like sheen of extraordinary beauty usually found in only the best of Orientals. Our selection, unusually large at this time, includes the choicest, newest patterns in all sizes. Certainly, no more appropriate gift, nor more desirable, could be chosen.

AUTO INJURIES FATAL TO TWO; TOLL IS NOW 818

Two deaths yesterday as a result of automobile accidents raised the toll in Cook county since Jan. 1 to 818.

August Grandquest, 4036 Palmer street, died in the Elmwood Park hospital of injuries suffered on Saturday when an automobile in which he was riding was struck at the Grand avenue crossing in Elmwood Park by a Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul train.

Charles Uhlig, 44 years old, 4585 Madison street, died at the Ravenswood hospital of injuries suffered in a collision between two cars at Ravenswood and Sunnyside avenues on Nov. 6.

Fred Reed, 4455 North Robey street, driver of the second car, has been notified to appear at the inquest.

Two employees of the city water pumping station, Frank Sasadeck and Otto Rudnick, were killed in Michigan City, Ind., when a Michigan Central train struck the automobile in which they were riding on the Center street crossing.

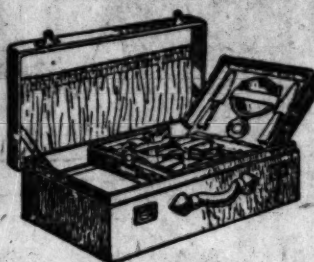

FORMER SLAVE, 99, IS DEAD.

Mrs. Jane Dorsey, a former slave, died yesterday at the home of her son, James Dorsey, 412 North State street, of senility. She was 99 years old. She escaped from slavery and came to the north a few years before the civil war, and has lived in Chicago for the last thirty years.

By all means, advises THE TRIBUNE'S Good Fellow department, make your Christmas visit to the homes of poor children in Chicago personally.

Give yourself the chance to enjoy the smile on the face of a child some one has remembered. If you find the house clean and orderly, do not decide that there is not real need. Such cases many times are the most pitiful. If you find dirty shiftlessness do not let your antagonism to it cause you to penalize the helpless children who are the victims.

Give toys by all means, but not high quality ones or excessively priced ones. After buying a reasonable amount of simple and durable toys, if you feel able to spend more use the surplus for children's warm clothing or for food.

Seventeen Years of Experience. Good Fellows, this advice is based on seventeen years' experience of the Good Fellow department. It furnishes a fine tip for the Yuletide activities of the Good Fellow army when it marches down on the enemies of Chicago's poor children on Christmas eve or on Christmas day.

As the Good Fellow army marches onward each year, packages of joy, such as candies and nuts and toys, are delivered to homes of poor families so the children of the households may have a real celebration on Christmas.

Remember we have less than three weeks now in which to get our Good Fellow army recruited up to war-time strength.

To be sure of participating in the march register the first thing tomorrow morning at THE TRIBUNE'S Good Fellow department, at 1 South Dearborn street, or call Superior 0100 and ask for the Good Fellow department, or you can fill out the Good Fellow coupon in today's TRIBUNE.

Mention has been made of the fact that every application for Christmas cheer is investigated. When the investigation is made a report of the family's condition is attached to the application for aid.

TEACHER DIES OF BURNS AS OIL HEATER EXPLODES

Miss Alice Cassin, 50 years old, a teacher of household arts in the public schools, died at Mercy hospital yesterday of burns suffered Saturday night when an oil heater in the basement of her home at 6443 Kimbark avenue exploded as she was attempting to adjust the controls.

Her clothing was ignited, and her screams brought her sister, Miss Mary Cassin, 45 years old, also a teacher in the public schools. The latter was severely burned on the face and hands, but is expected to recover. Flames from the heater were transmitted to an oil storage tank and to clothing that was hung in the basement. The fire department was called to extinguish the blaze.

FIREMEN DODGE FIVE STORY WALL AT YARDS BLAZE

Darling Co. Plant Burns.
Damage $100,000.

Fifteen firemen narrowly escaped injury yesterday afternoon when the east wall of the five story building of Darling & Co. at the southwest corner of the stockyards, collapsed during a $100,000 fire.

The men were standing on the roof of a shed, pouring water into the interior of the blazing structure, when the wall began to buckle. They fled high to safety just before tons of brick fell on the shed and buried it.

Starting on one of the lower floors of the plant, in which fertilizers are manufactured, the flames spread rapidly upward and within a few minutes the entire structure was ablaze. Because it was feared the fire would reach beyond the building and attack other packing plants in the yards, a 4-11 alarm and several special calls were sounded and a total of sixty-three engines were sent to the scene.

Fast work by the firemen prevented serious damage to the Guggenheim and Hammond packing plants, which adjoin the Darling company's building. The structure, which stands at the southeast corner of 46th and Cook streets, was a total loss.

Large crowds gathered to watch the spectacular flames and the clouds of smoke that arose. To prevent congestion that would interfere with fighting the fire all gates to the stockyards were closed. More than two hours were needed to bring the fire under control.

Fire Marshal Arthur Seyterlich, who took personal charge of the fight, said that the fire might run over $100,000. Late in the afternoon, because of the weakened condition of the walls still standing, the police established lines to keep back any spectators who might have passed into the yards.

Fire Destroys Building
Used by Hinsdale P. O.
Fire of unknown origin last night destroyed a two story building occupied by the postoffice in Hinsdale, Ill. No estimate of the loss would be given last night. The village fire department prevented the spread of the flames to adjoining structures.

WELLS MOORE PLANS FOR DISABLED.
The new attention service for disabled members and their families, recently started by Wells Moore of Moore's to supplement the work at Moonshaven for widows and orphans and at Moonshaven for the aged, was described in detail before 1,500 members of the Chicago lodge yesterday by Federal Judge Edward J. Reineke of southern California, chairman of the executive council of the Supreme lodge. It is said a $3,000,000 Moore building will be put up in the

JURY FREES TWO MORE IN MORSE MAIL FRAUD CASE

New York, Dec. 5.—(U.P.)—Two defendants in the Morse mail fraud trial who had been the subject of special recommendations in the judge's charge to the jury were acquitted today. They were George A. Burditt and Henry M. Boughton.

The jury was unable to agree on the other four defendants, Rupert W. Much, and Benjamin W. Erwin A. and Harry P. Morse, sons of Charles W. Morse, shipbuilder, Charles W. Morse was not brought to trial because of illness. The federal attorney has not yet announced whether they will be brought to trial again.

The jury was discharged after having been out 36 hours. Indictments were returned in 1922 against 34 men who were charged as officers, aids, associates or employees of the United States Steamship company, the United States Transport company, the United States Ship corporation, and other allied companies in which the Moroses were interested, with having conspired to misuse and have

KIDNAP GIRL, 17, NEAR HER HOME; PARENTS WORRY

Mary Montalbano, 17, was kidnapped yesterday morning by four youths near her home at 914 Townsend street. She, with Christiana Graziano, was on her way to work at the Cosmopolitan Candy company, 512 West Huron street, when seized.

The story of the kidnapping was told by Christiana, who is 15. She said the youths were waiting in an auto at Townsend street and Chicago avenue, jumped out and grabbed Mary and carried her into the car.

The parents of the missing girl said she had no love affairs, as far as they knew, and notified Waukegan, Crown Point and Valparaiso police to watch for the party.

100,000 BRITISH ASK BALDWIN TO PACIFY CHINA

LONDON, Dec. 5.—(U.P.)—An appeal to Premier Baldwin to work for peace in the far east has been signed by 100,000 Englishmen after an anti-war meeting at Albert hall today. Instead of sending warships to China the British nation should take its nationals out of that troubled country, George Lambour, Laborite member of parliament, told the meeting.

"If the fire enters in the house of

PRaises TRIBUNE AID IN GETTING EXPERT TO REPAY

Busch Calls Settlement Warning to Politicians.

Ernest H. Lyons' restitution of $42,053 during the trial of the case in which the Tribune was suing him and still is suing two other real estate experts of the Lundin-Thompson regime for the recovery of $1,732,379 in fees was characterized by Corporation Counsel Francis X. Busch yesterday not only as a big stroke toward winning the action but as a move that will have a far reaching effect on future conduct of persons in high political power.

"It strengthens the case immensely," Mr. Busch said, "and more than that, it shows that those things cannot be done with impunity."

Dever Regime Cooperates.

Since the Dever regime in the city hall the administration has been co-operating with the Tribune in the suits to recover huge fees paid to the real estate and building experts.

"The Tribune should be thanked for its splendid contribution to public service," Mr. Busch said. "We have been glad to cooperate."

To the $42,053 repaid by Lyons and the $277,000 which he and his associate experts, Edward C. Waller Jr. and Arthur Merigold, were prevented from getting by the filing of the suit, may be added another $1,872,000 as a temporary saving at least for the city, according to Mr. Busch.

Injunction Halts Payment.

The $1,872,000 represents the amount which the building experts, Frank H. Mece and the late Austin J. Lynch, were restrained by injunction from collecting after their claims of $2,876,400 were presented. They obtained $1,004,000 in fees.

Lyons' restitution, with the amounts which the five experts were prevented from getting, makes a total of $2,881,853, while the total amount actually received by the two sets of experts was $2,736,866.

"The Tribune's intervention prevented the further payment of $1,872,000 which the experts tried to collect and may reasonably be credited as a saving to the city at this time," Mr. Busch declared.

MURDER LANDLORD AS SLAYER.

The death by stab wounds yesterday of Joseph Lalaro, 28, in Edward Hines Memorial hospital, caused police to renew their search for Silverio Sepulveda, 34 years old, with whom Lalaro lived at Linden boulevard and Adams street in Belmont. Police believe Sepulveda stabbed Lalaro in a fit of jealousy over attentions paid his wife.

500 ELKS JOIN IN TRIBUTE TO DEAD BROTHERS

To remind the living that an Elk is never forgotten and never forsaken, and to pledge fidelity to the dead of their number, members of the Chicago lodge of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks held their annual memorial services yesterday afternoon in the Harris theater, attended by about 500 members and their friends.

In hushed tones, and with lights dimmed throughout the theater, Gustav W. Northdurft, the secretary, called the roll of brothers who have died since the last memorial day service, as their names appeared, one by one, in white lights on the pictured steps of the

$1,500 a Year For Beauty

By Edna Wallace Hopper.

A society woman told me the other day that she spent $1,500 yearly for beauty helps. She was using, in the main part, the main part, but she was paying many times my price. Her main help was a facial clay, very much out-of-date. I believe in clay. I do not see how any woman can hope to look her best or keep her youth without it. But there are clays and clays.

The clay I use is the final result of 20 years of research. It is white, refined and dainty. It combines two clays with many other very important factors.

I call it Edna Wallace Hopper's White Youth Clay. All drug and toilet counters supply it exactly as I use it. I cannot believe that any girl or woman who once tries it will ever go without it. My White Youth Clay purges the skin of all that clogs and mars it. It draws out the causes of blackheads and blemishes. It combats all lines and wrinkles. It brings the blood to the skin to nourish and revive it. The result is a rosy afterglow which places women at their best.

Almost any girl can multiply her beauty, inside 30 minutes, with my White Youth Clay. Many older women seem to drop ten years. No woman who once sees the results will ever go without it. Let me send you a trial treatment—free. The coupon will bring it with my Beauty Book. Request it in fairness to yourself. Clip coupon now.

—a money saving electric sign that flashes your message in colored flame

Outstanding Advantages of Rainbow Light:

- 1 Most beautiful form of electric display.
- 2 Operates without filament.
- 3 Greater visibility, legibility and penetration.
- 4 Affords use of full range of colors.
- 5 Continuous line of light—more effective than bulbs.
- 6 Current consumption much less than bulbs.
- 7 Eliminates all cost of lamp replacement.
- 8 A thoroughly tried and proven product.
- 9 Adapted to all letters and designs.
- 10 A cold light—doesn't raise the temperature. All light, no heat.

We are happy to announce that the famous Rainbow Light—the same luminous tube light used in the beautiful new Union Depot sign—is now available for general use in both outdoor and indoor electric display signs of any size or style.

Rainbow Light is, without question, the most visible and attention-compelling display light ever developed. Comes in six super-brilliant colors—the light itself is colored. Delivers practically a cold light—something scientists have been seeking for centuries. Ninety per cent of its energy is light. Not only does away with the bother and cost of replacing lamp bulbs, but Rainbow Light uses from 35 to 90% less current than bulbs.

For years the Rainbow type of tube lighting has been used in the most spectacular display signs in Paris and London. Alert advertisers in New York, Los Angeles and other American cities are employing Rainbow Light to flash their messages to the public in vivid letters of fire. Authorities agree that it is the greatest advance of the decade in electric display.

For further information about Rainbow Light, or for a demonstration of its superior beauty, brilliance and effectiveness in your displays just phone or write.

CANTON VICE KING ON TRIAL TODAY IN EDITOR'S MURDER

City Cleaned Up as Result of Paper's Crusade.

Canton, O., Dec. 5.—[United News.] Determined to avenge the death of a crusading editor who was shot down because he tried to rid his community of organized crime, the state of Ohio brings Patrick E. McDermott to trial tomorrow for the murder of Don R. Mellett, former editor of the Canton Daily News. McDermott was overlord of Canton's once famous vice district. It is nearly six months now since Mellett was murdered at the height of the editorial campaign against the liquor and vice gangs that had fastened themselves on the politics of Canton and Stark county. But the campaign that Mellett began did not stop with his death. The militant editor's alleged slayer goes on trial in a community much cleaner than the one in which Mellett was killed. The state of Ohio virtually turned Canton upside down when it set out to catch and prosecute the men who were believed responsible for taking the young editor's life. The town of steel mills and factories was deserted within three days by the underworld characters that Mellett had attempted to expose. The chief of police was removed from office and there were far-reaching changes in the personnel of departments charged with enforcement of the laws. CIGAR STORE OWNER HOBBER. Victor Peterson, 2339 North Keystone avenue, a cigar store owner, was held up and robbed of $100 by two armed men early yesterday just as he put his automobile in his garage at the rear of 2337 North Crawford avenue, he told Shakespeare avenue police.

JUVENILE CRIME DECREASING HERE, JUDGE DECLARES

In spite of the constantly reiterated statement that Chicago is a wicked city, this community reported a thirty per cent decrease in juvenile crime in a year when most cities throughout the country were reporting substantial increases, Judge Victor P. Arnold of the juvenile court said yesterday in his dedication address at the new Irving Park boulevard department of the Y. M. C. A. Every boy of the surrounding district, Judge Arnold said, will be better for the acquisition of this new department, because every boy needs an outlet for his energy, and this outlet is provided in the new Y. M. C. A. building. John V. Farwell presided at the dedication exercises, which were held yesterday afternoon at Irving Park boulevard and Kildare avenue. Other speakers were A. E. Cross, vice president of the Chicago Y. M. C. A., and Charles O. Loucks, who reported that 800 applications for membership in the new department are already on file, before the building has been formally opened.

Report Whitman Better, but Not Out of Danger

The condition of John L. Whitman, former warden of Joliet penitentiary, who has been seriously ill in Ravenswood hospital, was reported further improved yesterday by his attendants. Mr. Whitman is still in danger, however, they said.

RAID HOME BREW GASES. Three thousand quarts of home brew, 750 pints of kummed, and a large quantity of moonshine whiskey were seized yesterday when Sertis, Edward Barnes, Stephen Casey, and Frank Sobel of the Sheffield avenue station raided the home of Martin Elvira at 1758 Nelson street.

Mother's Shawl Was Always Kept Handy in the Early 80's.

What a bother home-heating was in those days. Fire always needing attention. And even then how uncertain heating comfort was. Windows open one minute to let out stifling heat—shawl on the next minute to keep warm.

But in the middle eighties a wonderful thing happened. Automatic heat regulation was invented, bringing immeasurably greater comfort to the home. What a great change it was to have the constantly uniform temperature of the Minneapolis Heat Regulator and none of the bother of hand regulation. Better health too—in these Minneapolis-equipped homes. And lower fuel cost.

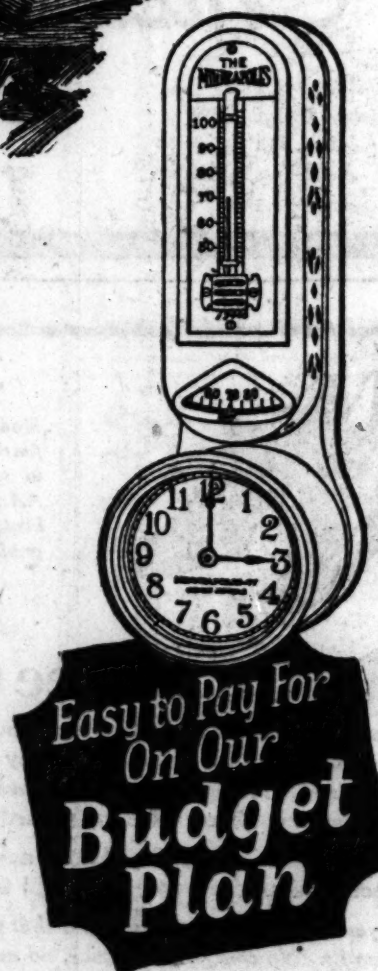

Later, Minneapolis heat regulation added still greater comfort to the home by means of clock control, and today this is one of the outstanding Minneapolis features. The clock lowers the temperature at a predetermined time at night. Raises it in the morning so you can begin the day with comfort.

You Need the Minneapolis NOW!

Months of cold weather still to come. Then milder weather, when it is harder than ever to keep the temperature uniform with hand regulation. Decide today to install the Minneapolis on our Budget Plan. Phone for details and free booklet.

March Into Mexico Waits on Rebel Victory.

Tucson, Ariz., Dec. 5.—(AP)—When Mexican revolutionists capture a garrison just south of the American border, Adolfo de la Huerta, former provisional president of Mexico, will return to that country to head a movement against President Calles.

Señor de la Huerta today revealed this to the Arizona Daily Star, in an interview given in Spanish.

"I am waiting for the revolutionists to capture a border point so that I can return to Mexico without violating American laws," Don Adolfo said. "There will then be a de facto government in charge of those points, and my entry can be regularly made."

Says He Obeys U. S. Law.

The former president said he was not taking a single step without the full knowledge of the American immigration and department of justice authorities. "I know the American laws regarding immigration and neutrality, and I am keeping within them," he said.

On nine distinct counts, Señor de la Huerta accused President Calles and his followers. He charged them with being insincere, rapacious, and with violating a number of the natural and fundamental rights of man.

"I have visited the Yaqui village north of Tucson and consulted with several of my personal friends there," he said. "From them I gleaned important information regarding the present strength of the uprising in Sonora."

14,000 Up in Arms in Sonora.

"There are now 14,000 men up in arms against the government in Sonora alone. Of these, 9,000 are well armed and 5,000 poorly armed. The majority are Yaquis. Next in numbers come the Mayas, then the Pinas, and finally white men."

Asked what border point he thought would be the first to fall into the hands of the revolutionists, Don Adolfo answered, with an ingratiating smile, "Señor, it would hardly be convenient for me to answer the question."

"The reason that the Calles régime is having a hard time with the Yaquis is twofold," Don Adolfo continued. "First, the Yaquis are good fighters; second, they are numerous."

Don Adolfo repeated an assertion made by him in Los Angeles to the effect that there were 20,000 men under arms in Mexico ready to revolt against the present government.

"It may be asked, 'If there are so many men, why don't they make themselves known?' Where are they?" Señor de la Huerta continued. "The answer is simple. These revolutionists are scattered among the twenty-eight states of Mexico. Their presence will become better felt when their revolutionary movement becomes crystallized."

Pedestrian, 75, Dies After Being Hit by Surface Car

Robert H. Jackson, 75 years old, of 440 West 60th place, died at Washington Park hospital yesterday of injuries received on Nov. 27, when he was struck by a surface car at 64th and State streets. Jackson came to Chicago fifty years ago and was for years an employé of the American Electric company. A widow and three daughters survive him.

SOLDIER GUARD WILL MEET BODY OF GUN INVENTOR

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Washington, D. C., Dec. 5.—(Special)—Under orders issued today by Secretary of War Davis, military honors are to be accorded the body of the late John M. Browning, inventor of the Browning machine gun and other rapid fire guns, when it reaches New York Tuesday on the steamship Majestic. Mr. Browning, a native of Salt Lake City, Utah, died suddenly in Belgium while working to perfect another type of gun.

Maj. Earl McFarland of the ordnance department will meet the Majestic at quarantine and accompany the body to the wharf, where an honor guard to be detailed by the commanding general of the Second corps area at Governor's Island will be waiting to escort it from the ship's side to the railroad station.

In a letter to Senator Smoot (Rep., Utah), announcing the war department's arrangements, Secretary Davis declared that to Mr. Browning's ingenuity and genius "are due the most important basic inventions in small arms during the last forty years."

Threatens Chauffeur, Steals Auto as Owner Dines

While Samuel Gessler of the Belmont hotel was eating dinner last night in a cafe at Chicago and Kedzie avenues a robber stepped up to the Gessler sedan, which stood at the curb. Walter Clark, a colored chauffeur, was on the front seat. The bandit thrust a revolver at Clark and commanded him to drive to an alley. There the chauffeur was forced out and the man left with the car.

PISTOL IN AUTO CAUSES ARREST.

Oscar Halick, 1047 West 13th street, and Albert Hiblowski, 1626 South Homans avenue, were arrested as bandit suspects early yesterday when a pistol was found in an automobile in which they were riding near the Fillmore street police station.

Plenty of Fine Music on Air; Delights Elmer

Mabel Garrison Wins Most of His Applause.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

The evening star yesterday was Mabel Garrison, soprano, on the New York 8:15 program, through W-G-N. And so engaging was this artist in her songs that everything else was eclipsed when she was on the air.

It was quite startling at 8:17 to hear her voice burst out in brilliant tones in "Scene and Gavotte" from Massenet's "Manon," followed by an aria from "Carmen." Toward the close of her recital Ardit's coloratura, "Kiss Me," instead of being merely a flashing vocal display, became a lovely, brilliant melody.

Ernest Von Dohnanyi also was on this program. And he was somewhat of a constellation, due to the fact that he is a pianist, composer and conductor. For pianists interested, he played three of his own compositions: Opus 17, No. 1; Opus 23, No. 1 and Opus 23, No. 2. Liszt's Hungarian Rhapsody No. 13 was a bit too much for the tiny microphone.

There were many other great moments and great hours yesterday.

The Beethoven program, W-G-N, 8:15, which included the "Egmont" overture. Stanley Martin's organ recital, Sunday Evening club, 7:40, made a whirlwind wonder of Bonnet's "Variations de Concert." Martin also played Felix Borowak's "Suite"—a quiet, contemplative work. The Edison Symphony orchestra, KTW, 10:40—excellent, as always. Indiana Male quartet, WEBB, 7—It sounded good to hear their finely harmonizing voices again.

Walton Pyre's character readings, on the American Conservatory of Music program, WLIR, 6—immense. Herbert Johnson's piano recital, WLIR, 5:30—definitely fingered works of Debussy, Moszkowski, and Liszt's great Polonaise in E flat. The Nelson instrumental trio, KTW, 4:30—will they please repeat the interesting four movement trio played? Chicago Philharmonic orchestra, W-G-N, 3 to 5—excellent program. May we not hear Sascha Corado, the lovely, fine voiced baritone on this program in an extended radio recital?

Stick Up 3 Men in Taxi; Get $1,900 Loot and Cab

Two armed men held up three passengers in a Checker taxicab in front of 3455 West 15th street last night, took $1,900 and other property valued at $1,100 from one of the trio and drove away in the cab. Meyer Meyers of 1615 South Hamlin avenue, was the loser. Besides the money, the robbers took a diamond ring, two checks and a fur coat from him. The two with him were Albert Bornstein, who lives at the 18th street address, and Ben Weinstein, 1615 South Avenue. Isadore Oranstein, the cab driver, was forced out with them.

WETS' INVASION OF LAST DESERT IN CANADA LOOMS

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Toronto, Ont., Dec. 5.—Ontario, the backbone of prohibition strength in Canada, has gone wet. Eighty of the 113 newly elected members in the legislature are pledged to support government sale of liquor. The Ontario temperance act, after a trial of ten years, will be placed in the discard. All Canada, with the exception of the three maritime provinces, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, and Prince Edward Island, is now wet. At one time all except the province of Quebec was under prohibition. One after another the provinces have reverted to the controlled system of liquor sale. The spotlight of the wet now turns to the three maritime provinces, where it is expected a campaign will soon be started to secure the change already adopted by the other parts of the dominion.

British Columbia First.

Ontario follows the four western provinces. British Columbia went dry in 1914. Introduced as a war measure the law was adopted by a vote of 42,736 to 38,862. In 1920, four years later, the act was repealed by a majority of more than 24,000—more than six times that by which it was adopted.

Manitoba was the next one to break into the wet column. After adopting a prohibition act in 1918, it returned in 1923 to a system of sale in government liquor stores to all persons over 21 holding the required permits.

Alberta went dry in 1916 and came back wet in 1923. Saskatchewan took from 1916 to 1917 to put over the dry act, and then reverted to the wet status in 1924.

Difficulty of dry law enforcement, increase in bootlegging, and lack of popular support have been encountered in all the provinces. The only way liquor could be legally obtained was through use of doctors' or other medical prescriptions. Abuses of these were rampant. Drug stores as well as government vendors were allowed to fill the prescriptions.

Opportunity for Bootlegger.

While sale, purchase, and the possession of liquor were banned, distilleries and breweries were permitted to operate. Their products, when destined for export to wet countries could not be interfered with either at the plant or in transit and a remarkable opportunity was given for wholesale bootlegging.

Along Lakes Erie and Ontario, boats have been clearing with cargoes of wet goods for Cuba and returning to their home port the same day. The same situation has existed on the Pacific and Atlantic coasts, where ships load up their cargoes of the Canadian product and go to the rum rows off the United States coast.

Manitoba introduced its prohibition act by a majority of 34,000 and discarded it by a majority of 40,000. Alberta adopted its law by a majority of 31,000 and threw it out by a majority of 39,000.

Ontario's rejection of the dry law was emphatic. Toronto and its suburbs alone gave a wet surplus of more than 87,000 votes—more than three to one.

DIRECT PRIMARY DIVIDES PARTIES, TAFT'S SON SAYS

Two widely divergent views of the direct primary as a means of making party nominations were given to the Chicago Forum at the Erieanger theater yesterday by Robert A. Taft, speaker of the Ohio house of representatives, a son of Chief Justice William Howard Taft of the United States Supreme court, and Prof. Charles E. Merriam of the University of Chicago, writer of books on politics.

Speaker Taft portrayed the direct primary as a costly system that destroys party policies, responsibilities and obligations, creates bloc interests, rule by organized minorities, and factional strife, and makes nominations a gamble.

Prof. Merriam pictured the direct primary system as a weapon in the hands of the people, which gives them a consciousness of power which they want to keep.

"Perhaps," said Mr. Taft, "a majority of the people still favor the direct primary. What I am interested in is convincing them they are wrong."

State Board Orders Inquiry Into Fatal Interurban Crash

P. H. Moynihan, acting chairman of the Illinois commerce commission, yesterday ordered an investigation of the collision Saturday of North Shore trains at Winthrop Harbor, in which a motorman was killed and six other persons injured. Charles G. Bennett, chief engineer for the commission, will make the inquiry. He sent assistants to Winthrop Harbor, which is just south of the Wisconsin line in Lake county, to gather evidence.

The Keys to Happiness . . . and Joyous Days Together

It's a gift she will most appreciate—and one that will assure a host of happy days together.

In a dainty little jewel box that you can lay beside her plate on Christmas morning, are the magic keys to her car—the wonderful car that is waiting outside—a Studebaker Big Six Custom Brougham.

It is a car of custom quality throughout—low-slung gleaming body, finished in duotone lacquers—and the lines and lure of a custom creation. It has every luxury of custom appointment—refined, form-fitting seats, fine mohair upholstery, broad-lace trim, Butler finish hardware, silk shades and silk toggle grips in a symphony of blended colors.

Powered by the quiet Studebaker Big Six L-head motor—which was first to beat the time of the crack Limiteds from New York to San Francisco—the Big Six Custom Brougham is equaled in rated power by only 7 American cars, which cost two to five times more!

Its price—$1785—is the lowest ever placed on a four-door Big Six enclosed car. Studebaker's One-Price facilities alone make possible this outstanding value. Unequaled value has enabled the Studebaker Big Six to outsell every other car in the world of equal or greater rated horsepower.

Decide now to give her this glorious gift! The Keys to Happiness are ready for you, and we will deliver the car on Christmas Eve, Christmas morning, or any time you wish. Under our Budget Payment Plan only a small down payment is necessary.

A. A. OFFICIALS PLAN SCHEDULE FOR NEXT YEAR

Tentative Dates Set at Asheville Session.

Asheville, N. C., Dec. 5.—(AP)—Members of the American association held their annual meeting today prior to the opening of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, which will convene its 35th annual session here Tuesday. Many other club owners and managers here for the meeting took the day off, some playing golf, others motoring through the mountains.

The American association went into executive session early in the day. President T. J. Hickey said tonight that no business of any importance or of public interest had been transacted. Opening dates were discussed and a tentative schedule was arranged, he said.

Season Opens April 22.

The season will open on April 22 in eastern cities and close Sept. 25. A 168 game schedule has been adopted in its tentative form, Mr. Hickey said. The association will be called together again tomorrow to add final touches to the schedule.

Announcement was made that Michael Sexton, for many years president of the association, would be present to preside at the opening meeting. Mr. Sexton previously had announced he would not attend, owing to the death of his son at Rochester, Minn., last week. Mr. Sexton will arrive Tuesday morning.

Club managers spent a large part of the day arranging for spring exhibition games for the 1927 season. A number of tentative dates were fixed, but none was made public.

Ty Cobb III.

Ty Cobb was taken ill shortly after his arrival here tonight. The former Detroit manager was forced to leave the dinner table and go to his room. A physician who attended him said he was suffering from a slight attack of influenza.

Cobb emphatically denied he was considering reentering baseball.

"I came here to be with the old crowd, and for no other purpose. I don't see why I cannot quit baseball if I want to."

Since the announcement that Cobb was to attend the meeting here, there has been much talk of his taking over the management of a club.

BESTETTI AND DINALE LEAD IN
6 DAY BIKE RACE

New York, Dec. 5.—(Special).—Wild jamming featured the opening hours of the forty-first international six day bike race, which got under way at Madison Square Garden tonight. At the end of the third hour the fourteen teams were tied in laps, but the Italian combination of Dinale and Bestetti held a substantial lead in points.

The jamming started when Otto Petri cut loose on the first lap after the starting gun had been fired. After the field caught the little German the teams of McNamara and Linnari, Georgetown and Belloni, and Cotes and Garrison all made futile attempts to lap the field. The jamming stopped when Linnari and Cotes fell. The standing at midnight, the third hour:

McNamara-Linnari 78 2 14
Georgetown-Belloni 78 2 14
Walker-Beckman 78 2 14

Demand for High Priced Motors Is Increasing

BY J. L. JENKINS.

Fine car popularity in the United States was attested yesterday when, at the close of the annual New York Automobile salon, held in the Commodore hotel, it was announced that approximately $1,500,000 worth of orders for custom built automobiles had been placed during the week. Scores of industrial leaders, as well as dealers and experts in the specialty motor field, saw in the unusual demand for expensive and exclusive cars a promise of continued national prosperity which, in 1926, has sent the automobile industry climbing far past any production or sales peak ever reached in its twenty-six years of existence.

About sixty per cent of this volume of business represents buying of custom cars, according to John R. Huston, veteran salon representative. The new styles introduced by the fifteen American and European makers who exhibited, he added, have established fine car fashions for the coming year and have made brilliant coloring in automobile finishes one of the features of motoring in 1927.

As a result of the unusual success of this initial American showing, there has been an increased demand for space at the annual Chicago Automobile salon in the Drake hotel, Jan. 29 to Feb. 5, the week of the National Automobile show here in the Coliseum. Plans have been made to increase the size of the Chicago salon this season.

CUT "TAKEOUT" ON MUTUEL BETS TO 4 PER CENT

New Orleans, La., Dec. 5.—(AP)—The "takeout" on pari-mutuel bets were reduced from five to four per cent yesterday when directors of the Louisiana Jockey club met at the fair grounds to consider the proposal. The vote was unanimous. Col. E. R. Bradley voted by long distance telephone from his Idle Hour farm, near Lexington, Ky.

The four per cent "takeout" is the lowest in the United States. "The Louisiana Jockey club originally had planned to introduce this percentage reduction about Feb. 1," said President Schleider, in making the announcement. "Col. Bradley already had stated publicly that he intended to ask the board to take this step at the regular meeting at that time, so that the four per cent plan would be tried experimentally for half of the coming racing season. However, the board was so unanimous in approving the suggestion that we felt there was no reason for delay and therefore acted at once."

McQuillan Resigns as Columbus A. A. Manager

Columbus, O., Dec. 5.—(AP)—George McQuillan, manager of the Columbus American association baseball club, submitted his resignation to President Joe F. Carr yesterday. McQuillan, a veteran pitcher, took over the managerial reins in the middle of last season following release of "Hank" Gowdy.

ACUTE NEURITIS

Crippling Aches Quickly Relieved by Simple Home Remedy

Freed from the crippling pain of neuritis after having tried various treatments without getting relief, a well-known business man of Cincinnati, Ohio, writes:

"Following influenza I was seized with a violent attack of neuritis in the right arm and shoulder. I got no relief until I tried Sloan's Liniment. The affected arm and shoulder were shortly restored to a healthy condition."

Sloan's gives real relief because it doesn't just deaden the pain. It gets at the cause. Just pat it on gently. Quickly and surely it drives out stiffness, kills pain. Get a bottle. All druggists—35 cents.

Schaeffer and Lenard in Ring Show Tonight

Herbie Schaeffer of the south side and Henry Lenard of South Chicago will be the principals in the main bout of Johnny Coulon's boxing show at White City tonight. They will box ten rounds to a referee's decision. The men will weigh in at 125 pounds at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

They clashed in the White City arena a short time ago and Lenard was given the decision. It was a good fight and so many requests were received for a return match that Promoter Coulon decided to rematch the pair. Lenard is a southpaw.

Paul Allen and Morris Gransberg will meet in the eight round semi-wind-up at 130 pounds. The other bouts will bring together Henry Cullen and Sid Kelly, Cory Dolan and Joey Pats and Plum White and Pete Pauley.

Paul Taylor, the Torr Hunt, Ind., heavyweight, yesterday was matched to meet Tony Cassano of Brooklyn in New York on Dec. 17. This bout will be one of four rounders to be staged by Tex Rickard in Madison Square.

Bill Long, manager of Taylor, asserted he grew tired of waiting for local promoters to close a Taylor-Eddie Shea match for the latter part of the month. It is understood that Promoter Mike Malloy is trying to sell Joe Sanger of Milwaukee to meet Shea at the stock yards on Dec. 20. Definite announcement of this match is expected today when Lou Sanger, manager of his brother, comes down from Milwaukee for a conference with Promoter Malloy.

Taylor will open his new gymnasium in Terre Haute tonight. Manager Eddie Long and several friends left last night to attend the opening ceremonies.

Joe Colman of Hoboken, N. J., and Don Davis of Chicago, who clash in the windup of the show at Earl's hall, 2654 West Madison street, on Friday night, will resume training today at Muller's, Ralph Mondosa and Lou Perath meet in the semi-windup, which figures to be the best fight on the card. Two other bouts will be announced today by Promoter H. G. Sticksel.

Contract with Rickard

New York, Dec. 5.—(AP)—Paolino Uscudum, Basque woodchopper of Spain, has signed a contract with Tex Rickard to box exclusively for the Madison Square Garden corporation in the states of New York and New Jersey for a period of one year. Paolino arrived this week from Argentina seeking matches with America's leading heavyweight boxers.

Snowy Owls of Arctic Invade U. S. for Food

BY BOB BECKER.

Apparently enjoying a rather prolonged cruising trip away from the barren grounds of the Arctic, a number of snowy owls, silent hunters of the northland, recently appeared in Michigan. An observer in New York also reports the arrival of this handsome killer which invades the United States only during the winter months when a shortage of food causes him to set sail for new hunting grounds.

These snowy white owls, 25 inches tall and with a broad sweep of wing adapted to hunting, are by no means common visitors to the United States. Although their infrequent southern migrations may bring them to Wisconsin and Michigan, where they levy toll on mice and birds, these feathered residents of the far north sometimes drift into Chicago.

A few years ago local bird fans were stirred by such an event. And it is an event when you think about it: Here is a wilderness bird, an owl of the wings of a norther to live in a city of 3,000,000.

TRUST OFFICIAL FINDS ROMANCE IN INSURANCE

BY CHARLES BARTON.

A history of the development of life insurance, from the original idea of providing a cash settlement at death, to its present widespread application in conserving earning capacity, would read like a romance, asserts an eastern bank official, in an analysis of the use and purpose of life insurance trusts.

The phenomenal figure of $75,000,000 of outstanding life insurance today, he predicts, will be the result of another twenty-five years of relatively small growth. The volume sold last year was four times as great as that of ten years ago. He believes that if past growth is any indication the country will have approximately $350,000,000 outstanding in 1950. This figure is said to be the present worth of all property, real and personal, in the United States.

Truly a wonderful record, avers the executive, with a rosy promise for the future. But he finds a flaw in the situation, namely the fact that ninety per cent of insurance bequests are simply dumped in the beneficiary's laps on a lump sum basis.

Not for Best Interests. "This is done," he continues, "in the face of a remarkable array of statistics proving that lump sum settlements do not protect the best interests of the beneficiary. Unless a policy is intended to cover some absolutely definite and specific need for immediate cash, a lump sum policy falls utterly to conserve the fund so easily created."

"Now the life insurance company was devised for the express purpose of creating estates, while the trust company is organized to conserve estates previously created. It is clear then that our cooperative effort must be to harness these two great institutions in tandem through the life insurance trust. Teaming together a perfectly harmonious program of complete and permanent financial coverage can be easily accomplished."

Should Park Settlement. He regards it as settled that there is a big place for both institutions in the picture. There is still a tremendous amount of insurance, however, which he thinks should be protected by trust agreements. In addition a large amount of new business may be written through the appeal of a life insurance trust.

Nothing can prevent a perpetual alliance between the two, he asserts, in whose benefits the community will inevitably and abundantly share.

Failures of Banks Spur Life Agent in Efforts

Six bank failures in one week in an Iowa county have led to a life agent working in the affected district. Using the failures to point out the safety principle of life insurance, he wrote applications for $29,000.

Birmingham City Workers Buy Group Life Policy

City employees of Birmingham, Ala., have adopted a group life insurance plan under the terms of which 562 men and women are protected to the amount of $1,215,000. The policy is of the contributory type and provides both life and accident insurance.

Farm and Garden

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

If any farmer doubts the saving that comes to him through the killing of hogs at home, instead of buying his hams, bacon, sausage and lard, should take hogs at their present price and do a little figuring. He can save nearly $16 a head on every pig killed for his own meat, which would amount to $75 or $80 a year to the average farmer.

Bull of the University of Illinois has figured that on a 225 pound hog the farmer can save exactly $15.57 by butchering the porkers at home. That is on the basis of what the meat of this hog would cost the farmer if bought at retail. The saving, Bull says, does not allow for the farmer's labor, curing materials, or any overhead charges. That's on the basis of $12 a hundred farm price for the hog.

The saving of $15.57 on each hog means that the farmer may get all the costs and profits that are involved in shipping the hog to market, dressing the hog, grinding the sausage, rendering the lard, curing the meat and selling the pork. It doesn't mean that the packer or butcher is making an unreasonable profit, Bull says, but it does mean that home butchering is simply an opportunity for the farmer to utilize his own labor satisfactorily at a time of the year when he is not particularly busy.

City consumers pay the retailer $42.57 for the products of a 225 pound hog, while at the rate of 15 cents a pound this hog alive would be worth $27, and there's where the farmer's home butchering saves him $15.57.

CALLS ON PROSPECTS AT DAWN TO SECURE NEW POLICY RECORD

Beginning with a midnight search for prospective policyholders, Edward J. Kennedy, of the south side branch of the Travelers Life Insurance company, last Tuesday achieved what is believed to be a one day record by obtaining 159 individual applications for a total of $307,000.

Before dawn, Mr. Kennedy, who took out life policies, He averaged more than six for every hour of the twenty-four, or better than one application every ten minutes.

Mr. Kennedy has been in the insurance business for just three years. Previously he spent fourteen years in the wholesale and retail tobacco business. He is 33 years old.

LONDON MARKETS DEPRESSED BY CHINESE CRISIS

BY WILLIAM S. PRESTON.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
(Copyright, 1926, by The Chicago Tribune.)
LONDON, Dec. 5.—China was the chief disturbing element in the London market this week. The fluctuations of the franc, with the fears of financial trouble over the Paris bourse settlement did not help the situation.

The uncertainty over China perhaps counterbalances the satisfaction expressed regarding the resumption of work in the British coal fields. The Chinese situation, however, not only destroyed confidence in the Chinese government securities, but depressed the gilt edged market generally, the week witnessing rapid falls in stock and share prices, although on the week-end the markets showed some recovery. The week generally has been distinctly favorable to bears.

favorable to the bears. Further improvement in the value of the franc led to heavy selling by Paris, while the operators in other markets were disposed to curtail commitments in view of the approaching end of the year, snatching minute profits when available.

Rubber was second in the spotlight to China, chiefly due to the American manufacturers' plan for stabilizing the price. Cabled reports of the scheme deeply interested the markets, which recovered early from a fall in the commodity to below 1 shilling 6 pence per pound for the first time since February, 1915.

The market here regards the American scheme as one that eventually will stabilize prices on a basis fair, both to the producers and consumers. The markets forced ahead both in the commodity and shares, the week closing with substantial gains in both.

Home Ralls Lower.

British home funds aroused little interest, while the leading home railway stocks were distinctly flat, losing ground, but with little stock coming on the market. Foreign rails were uninteresting with minor fluctuations and the leading Argentinean shares being the best.

The industrial section saw many ups and downs. Artificial silk shares were noticeably weak. Courtinoids failed to maintain their early improvement, while other recent silk concerns gave way. Carreras Tobacco announced the long expected bonus of one and two shares, together with a final dividend of fifty per cent. For the last three years the dividend has been fifty per cent, tax free, with the bonus.

Prudential Loan Large Sums on Real Estate

Real estate loans of $22,556,675 were made by the Prudential Insurance company during October. Of the amount loaned, $18,814,525 was on 2,396 dwelling houses and 141 apartments which furnish accommodations for 5,167 families. Farm loans reached $2,136,750 and the remainder, $1,605,400, was on various non-residential city properties.

Showing the Way

As Columbus demonstrated to the courtier who sought to detract from the credit due him for his discoveries, anyone can stand an egg on end—or cross strange seas—after someone else has shown the way.

The task of creating a nationwide telephone service, like that of discovering a new world, is one for the pathfinder and the pioneer. The telephone, as the modern American knows it, has been made possible by the doing of a multitude of things in the realms of research, engineering and business administration that had never been done before; by patiently working out an endless succession of seemingly unsolvable problems.

Only because of its willingness and ability to lead the way in telephone development has the Bell System been able to provide America with a nation-wide, universal service that sets the standard for the rest of the world.

See the Wonders of your great Pacific Coast

A region unsurpassed in all the world in scenic splendor, a magic land to inspire travelers, awaits you.

COME first to Southern California. See the quaint Old Missions, founded by Spanish padres more than 150 years ago. Drive over 5000 miles of paved boulevards—(smooth as city streets) that lead through orange groves, mountains, quaint cities, and a thousand new and different things to see.

Golf, hunt, fish, play tennis, ride horseback, hike in the mountains or pursue your hobby whatever it may be and find it at its best.

You may see here, too, America's highest mountain, 14,000 feet above the sea. And, only a few miles away, its lowest valley, 300 feet below the ocean level.

On your journey north plan to visit Yosemite in all its winter splendor.

See San Francisco, Oakland and the famous Golden Gate—Mt. Lassen, this country's only active volcano—lofty Mt. Shasta—then Crater Lake with a depth that has never been sounded and with water bluer than the sky.

Next, go out from Portland over the marvelous Columbia River Highway—unsurpassed.

Snow-capped Mt. Hood, a silent sentinel, with its great companion, Mt. Rainier, to guard the northwest wilderness.

Cosmopolitan Seattle—where the Orient meets the Occident—the gateway to Alaska's romance and adventure. Splendid Tacoma—Spokane, capital of the inland empire.

Beautiful Puget Sound with its ever-green shoreline and estuaries. All this means that here is an unequalled itinerary for any vacation trip you may plan.

Special circle tour rates make this great trip possible at very reasonable cost. Ask at any railroad ticket office. Come via Southern California and travel north, or vice versa. Take advantage of these opportunities and see the Great Pacific Coast this winter. Come at any time, suits you, for this is an all-year playground. Attractive every day throughout the year.

We have issued probably the most complete booklet ever printed on the subject of vacations. Fifty-two pages about Southern California, illustrated and intensely interesting. Send coupon below and we will mail a copy to you free.

The Ragged Edge

By Henry C. Rowland.

Beautiful Carillon Boyd has no particular respect for the conventions of formality—which "Bengal" Dodd finds irritating. But her cleverness, and the undercurrent of tragedy in her gay chatter, are fascinating.

The new daily serial, The RAGGED EDGE

A Mystery Romance by Henry C. Rowland

START IT HERE—

"Bengal" Dodd takes his new yacht from East Boothbay to Bermuda on his maiden voyage in the dead of winter. At Hamilton he is visited by Granville Boyd, a scientist who has ample means to combine with yachting a purposeful objective. Boyd tells Bengal he is en route for the South Pacific aboard his 70 foot auxiliary ketch, on a semi-scientific expedition. He has as guests two scientists, a former South Sea missionary doing research in ethnology, and his sister. A girl comes swimming alongside Bengal's ketch, reaches down where he can determine, Bengal, a chivalrous young man, reaches down a Vulcanesque arm, swings her up, and finds himself looking with embarrassed admiration at a water nymph in a sparkling swimming suit that might have been painted on her.

INSTALLMENT II. THE PEARL DIVER.

She came now to rest on the strip of deck beside the cockpit, gave him a shimmering look that was approving and said with no trace of breathlessness: "One could swim for hours in this water, but I hate to do anything alone. Evidently you don't, though, did you?" "I'm not alone. And where did you get that Bungle?" "You were, until I came. Any man who hasn't a woman within reach is alone. And I know all about you." "And yet you dare visit me unaccompanied?" "That's partly why. You were born in Calcutta, in the state of Bengal. Your father was in shipping, a Maine man, and your mother the daughter of an American medical missionary out there. Your real name isn't Bengal, but your father was known as 'Bengal' Dodd because whenever a man eater was reported to be lurking on native beaches somewhere, he would drop everything to go to that place and shoot that tiger. On foot with a rifle, in the old days."

Bengal surveyed her with greatly added interest. "What was the name of your paternal grandfather?" he asked. "Fitzhugh. I did not get your kennel register from him. No, I got something else."

She had swung her feet inside the cockpit, so as to face him. They were small rosy members, dimpled like a baby's. Bengal observed that one of them was twitching nervously.

"What else?" he asked.

"O, nothing about you. An inheritance of sorts. You see, Bungle, some of us inherit from the tiger hunter, and others from the tiger. Some are progressing, and others are not."

Good morning!

God was so busy watching his sparrows that he didn't have any time for the sad little folks at Grimes' baby farm in the swamps. That's what they explained to the biggest of them, Mama Molly, who insisted that God would hear their prayers and surely get them out some day. Little brave, wan-checked, sad-eyed Mama Molly, doing her best to protect the rest of them from the cruelties of the horrible Grimes!

I declare I don't know what to say to you about this picture. It tells the depressing story of miserable children who fall into the clutches of unscrupulous grognaws, and if you love children it will go pretty hard with you.

What saves it from being too utterly devastating is the "play-acting" feeling that gets across to you from them, occasionally. Behind the dirt and the tears there's the radiation of a kid having a swell time. That saves your feelings immensely.

From Mary, though, you never get this. She is a sad, gallant little piece of humanity for seven reels. However, a regular Cinderella story book ending leaves you with the memory of every body happy.

I have heard grewsome stories of how poor Mary worked in this film. Waded up to her neck in mud for hours at a time. Climbed a tree ten times before a proper "shot" could be made. Went for hours with a baby strapped on her back because strapping the baby on was such hard work it was thought best to leave the child there once the deed had been accomplished.

I have heard that she suffered an infection in her leg from the mud wadings. Heaps of things like that, which, if true, show that into this big Mary has herself, heart, soul, and body. Certainly there couldn't have been much fun working out such a tale.

The children—and there are about nine of them—all do splendid acting. So do the rest of the grognaws and, for as staging, let's say that it is really really wretchedly staged.

I told you I didn't know what to say about "Sparrows." It's well done but, SHOULD it have been done? By all means if it directs attention to any such "baby farm" as is depicted in the script.

Well—to the story—the Royal Mounted arrive and there is Sergeant Carrigan and there is Jeanne-Marie—some fur overcoat—

—and there you have your love story that runs sweetly through an Indian raid and a lot of other things.

The film ends in a gorgeous burst of peace and colored photography.

Color, Romance, and Adventure for You Here

Color, romance and adventure in this picture which has, for its background, the early days in the great north-west when the Royal Mounted police organized to overcome the lawlessness of that country.

It is a human affair with much little detail punctuating its sweep and beauty, and it brings to you folk you love in roles that suit them. Don't you think, for instance, that Antonio Moreno in the red coat of a sergeant of the Royal Mounted would be nice? And don't you think you could care for Renee Aronde as an ardent pioneer of humanity for seven reels. However, a regular Cinderella story book ending leaves you with the memory of every body happy.

I have heard grewsome stories of how poor Mary worked in this film. Waded up to her neck in mud for hours at a time. Climbed a tree ten times before a proper "shot" could be made. The Tribune will pay $5 for each question accepted for the Inquiring Reporter.

Send name and address with your question to "The Inquiring Reporter," Chicago Tribune. For today's question Miss Flo Garvey, 1017 North Street, No. 111, was awarded $5.

The Question.

Have girls the right to giggle at a man in a fur overcoat?

Where Asked.

Jackson street at Wabash avenue.

The Answers.

Mrs. Barbara Wegener, 1519 South Kedzie avenue, house wife—"They can't giggle at a man in a fur overcoat, but they can giggle at a man in a fur overcoat who is wearing a fur coat and who is not in style unless he is wearing a fur coat."

John Williams, 56 West Division street, salesman—Men have as much right as women to wear a fur coat if they can afford it. A lot of women are wearing fur coats who can't afford them. They would rather go without food than without a fur coat. If one can afford a fur coat, they are nice, warm, and wear well."

Mrs. Camille Maryans, 1501 North Avers avenue, house wife—"It's silly to giggle over that matter because a man has just as much right to be comfortable wearing a fur overcoat as a woman has. A fur coat on a man is an indication that he has enough money to afford one and probably a good deal more."

T. E. Bittner, 19 South La Salle street, real estate broker—"I might suggest that the reason for that outward manifestation is that they have been through the experience themselves and they now what a multitude of financial embarrassments—what the coat is before it goes."

Mrs. Marcus Smith, 322 South West avenue, housewife—"Some fur overcoat—

—and there you have your love story that runs sweetly through an Indian raid and a lot of other things.

New Orchestra

Makes Its Bow to

Chicago Public

By HAZEL MOORE.

A newly constituted organization christened the Chicago People's orchestra yesterday received its public baptism at the Eighth Street theater, under the efficient direction of P. Martin Paulsen.

Numbering some fifty-four players, the orchestra had some familiar aspects. Here and there a face more often seen at an orchestra hall stand was glimpsed. In other ways the new organization gave evidence of not such extreme youth as the novelty of the name suggests.

The overture to "Rienzi" was played with zest, particularly by a brass section with evident designs on Sousa's band, but when the "From the New World" symphony of Dvorak began, it seemed well between Mr. Paulsen, (is men and the small section of the Chicago people who were assembled to speed this orchestral child on its way. What that will be, these same people will undoubtedly decide.

That delightful sodality, the Pionze quartet, who, like the three musketeers, are one for all and all for one, gave their second concert of the season to the Playhouse—full of eager listeners. A long, too long (if anything can be too long when the Pionze play) quartet in F major by Ravel, was beautifully compensated as to length by a slow movement of sheer delight, exquisitely played.

The Ravel was preceded by the Mozart D major and followed by the Andante con variazioni, op. 18, No. 5, by Beethoven.

Olga Warren, soprano, made her maiden bow to Chicago in a recital at the Goodman theater, in a pleasing program of conventional makeup. Starting with the much used "Song of Delilah," Miss Warren exhibited a little untidiness as to tone. Schuber's "Who Is Sylvia?" fared somewhat better as this singer evidently has respect for Shakespeare's lovely words. Her coloratura proclivities were shown in "The Lass with the Daisies" and in "The Song of the Lark," by Weckerlin. Groups in French, German and English followed.

League of Women Voters Start Drive for Maternity Fund

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Washington, D. C., Dec. 4.—(Special.)—The National League of Women Voters is planning a campaign to insure a renewal of appropriations for the Sheppard-Towner maternity and infancy act during this session of congress, it was learned today. A measure outlining the operation of the act passed the house last spring and is now in the senate calendar for consideration.

"It is important that action be taken promptly," it was declared at the league headquarters, "in order that state legislatures meeting in January may be assured of continued federal aid in carrying on the work after the expiration of the act in July, 1927."

"Although the act has been in operation less than five years, substantial progress in reducing the infant death rate is already apparent, and the beneficent results of the law as reported from various parts of the country amply justify a renewal of the appropriation. Moreover, unless renewed, the foundation work which has just been laid in many states would be largely wasted. Approximately 10,000 fewer babies under one year of age die annually now than at the time the act was passed in 1921. Consideration of human welfare and public economy alike point to the need of continued appropriation."

THEATER

"THE GREAT TEMPTATIONS"

New York Winter Garden show, in two parts, by Harold Atteridge, Clifford Grey, Maurice Rubens, et al.; made known in Chicago (by the Messrs. Shubert) December 5, 1926, in the Apollo Theater, with Jack Benny, Billy V. Van, the Deuel Sisters, Charlotte Woodruff, the Pastor Ames, Wilfred Seagram, Dorothy McNulty, Miller and Lyles, Florens Ames, Bartlett Simmon, Podi Brown, Rosary and Cappella, Seaman and Herman, Roy Selley, Miss Harriet Harbaugh, Fred Irving Lewis, the Kelo Brothers, and others, and others.

Here is an ample, rich, handsome, and varied example of what managers insist on calling revue,—although, if the question were put as to what shows of the kind ought to be called, I should be among those without an adequate reply. Pictorially, this one is immeasurably better than anything else I have seen in or from the Winter Garden, and the tableaux, processions, and spectacular stunts are in such good scale and proportion and in such lovely coloring that the whole thing could conceivably be designed with the Apollo stage and proscenium in mind. These full-stage ensembles are beautiful and, in at least two instances, thrilling; notably, in the first-part finale, where gorgeous things are done with "Valencia"—and, it may be added, this is the first time "Valencia," the most popular tune since the Armistice, has been used on a Chicago stage. There is no valid evidence that anybody has yet tired of the tune; but, even if there be persons who

Prince and Princess Face Busy Program on Their Return Today

BY NANCY R.

There's no doubt about it, we love to give our visitors a right merry whirl while they're within our gates! Back to the program, as it were, of a well known Chicago hostess, who returns to Chicago today, to be here until Wednesday night.

This noon, Mrs. Heaton Owsley is giving a luncheon at the Fortnightly for the princess. This evening, they will both be guests of the Watson family at dinner and later at the opera. Tomorrow, Mrs. Chauncey McCormick is entertaining the princess at luncheon, while her husband and Henry Z. Patten lunch the prince at the Chicago club. Afterward, there's to be a tour of the Field museum, and in the evening, after dining with the Cyrus McCormicks, the visitors will be members of their box party at the opening night of the Horse show to be held this week at the Riding club for the benefit of the Illinois Children's Home and Aid society.

Wednesday morning trips through the University of Chicago and the stock yards and later at the opera, after lunching at the Potter Palmer's, the prince and princess will be taken through the Art Institute. Isn't that a busy three days for you!

La! La! Life certainly has its ups and downs, and at the moment "Billy" Hubbard is leaning about as much of the job of chairman of arrangements for the Harvard instrumental club's concert to be given here on New Year's eve he was afflicted with an attack of chicken pox. So that for the present he's quarantined out in Lake Forest, unable to go to his office, unable to help with plans for the concert.

One of the gayest afternoon parties on the docket for the holiday season is the tea dance which Katherine Putnam and her two brothers, Henry and Cleveland, are giving at the Saddle and Cycle on the twenty-first of this month. Miss Putnam, who is Mrs. James Otis Hinkley's niece, has her debut here last year. She is spending this winter with the Hinkleys in Lake Forest.

Day's News in Society

The lounge of the Drake will be the scene today of a gay exhibit and sale of handiwork from the Home for Convalescent Children at Prince Crossing. Toys and hooked rugs are the principal items, proceeds from the sale of which will go toward the individual bank accounts of the 102 children at the home. Board members assisting at the sale will be Mrs. William J. Chalmers, president; Mrs. Frank Johnson, house chairman; Mrs. William C. Phillips, Mrs. Frank Kibbard and Mrs. Joseph O. Watkins. Mrs. Ernest R. Graham, Mrs. Charles G. Cushing, Mrs. Cyrus McCormick, Miss Margjorie Ward, and Miss Nancy Donnelly.

The contingent of Chicago society interested in the museum composed the guests at the musical given last night at the Lake Shore Drive hotel by Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Brewster, Miss Gwethalyn Jones, Mrs. Bryan Lathrop, Cyrus Hall McCormick, Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus McCormick, Henry Z. Patten, Mr. and Mrs. Augustus S. Peabody, and Mr. and Mrs. Martin A. Ryerson. The hosts and guests are, most of them, friends of Mrs. Elizabeth Sprague Coolidge of Washington, D. C., whose foundation for the Washington music festival is the reason for the presence in this city of the Pro Arte string quartet of Brussels who gave last night's programs.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles King Corant gave the wedding breakfast after the marriage last Thursday of Miss Mary Louise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August Leister of Minneapolis, to Captain Julian P. Brown of the U. S. Marines. The ceremony was performed at the Church of the Transfiguration in New York City, and the wedding breakfast took place at the Ambassador hotel. Mrs. Brown is a niece of Mr. Corant, and it was at the Corant home in Cannes, France, that she met her husband. The Corants sailed on Saturday to spend the winter abroad.

Mrs. George F. Porter of 1838 North State street, Mrs. Harold L. Ickes and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Wilmarth Ickes of Hubbard Woods, are in Washington this week as Chicago delegates for the National Woman's Trade Union league to the conference on the cause and cure of war, at which Carrie Chapman Catt will preside.

Mrs. Lockwood, Honore of 83 East Cedar street has returned from a brief visit in Milwaukee, Wis., where she was the guest of Mrs. James K. Iley. Mrs. Oliver W. Holmes of the Ambassador hotel is to give a luncheon party for 75 guests at the Blackstone today.

Mr. and Mrs. Milan H. Hulbert of 2818 Hampden court have cards out for a tea dance from 4 to 7 o'clock on Friday, Dec. 24, at the Fortnightly for their daughter, Miss Helen Mortimer Hulbert.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Bondurant, Clere of Winnetka announced the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth, to Lewis Hinnadel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wither of Grand Rapids, Mich., at a luncheon given on Saturday for Miss Catherine E. Peck of Grand Rapids.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Roche of 1725 Jarvis avenue announce the marriage of their daughter, Eleanor, to David C. McCammon, son of Mr. and Mrs. David J. McCammon of 6745 Clayton court. Mr. McCammon and his bride are to reside at 1936 Estes avenue.

WINNIE WINKLE, THE BREADWINNER: A Woman's Vanity

She Loves Him, She Loves Him Not, and Asks, 'What'll I Do?'

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"I am 19 and have been going steadily with a young man for almost a year. I know he loves me. How can a girl be sure it is her REAL love? At times I feel I could never get along without him and am very happy. Again I am doubtful and feel miserable. His education is inferior to mine and small grammatical errors get on my nerves terribly. I thought of going out with other young men, but he already has told me that if I did he could never feel the same toward me and would go away for ever."

"UNCERTAINTY."

How can a girl be sure it is her real love? With the majority of people, deciding this question has a bit of the old gambling element in it. If we could separate love from our petty little selfishness and criticisms and accept it for the big, generous thing it ought to be, there wouldn't be this gambling feature to it. But human nature being what it is, we are inclined to measure love not of itself but by the demands we make upon it. However, one of the local symptoms is being happier in the company of ONE than in the company of all others. You miss that one when you have an evening alone. You wish he'd call you up. You like to hear him tell you what a nice girl you are more than you like hearing it from any other lips. You believe in him more than you believe in any one else.

It does not follow that you cannot be in love and not feel critical of his failings. Women keep on loving men with vice they are perfectly aware of.

But 19 being an age of conflicting emotions, as a rule, certainly one moment and uncertainty the next may mean little or nothing. And again, it may be the only means at command to determine the answer to the important question. It is best, anyway, to make the test with a period apart from the one that set the question in motion. It might easily be that another young man could make "Uncertainty" a real love in him. It has happened in unloved cases.

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

Makes Excuses.

"Dear Miss Blake: I have been in love with a girl for quite a while and she loved me, but lately whenever I ask to take her out she makes some kind of excuse. What is the matter? 'Count-Me-Out'."

There couldn't be such indifference if any of the old feeling still remained. You'd better take the hint, don't you think?

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Baked Greenings.

Most of the quick desserts, or the quickest, involve some more or less lengthy preparation at some point, or will require by the time the requisite time to acquire it. Cake can be used in many ways in desserts and so can sirups, but preserves and conserves can take the place of fruit, which is not familiar with the elegant type of desserts, and of course these do not come off as they did formerly, with a wine flavoring. Chopped nuts and candied fruits in whipped cream was an old story to her.

Now a greening apple will bake in thirty minutes in a 350 degree oven, so if one will start that to baking before starting the potatoes—by the quickest method and the chop the woman in question was going to have (quick), it will be done in ample time, especially if the table is to be set, and a few like things done with cream and even hot cookies it is fairly good for a dessert. Finish the meal with cheese.

This Frock Combines Business and Pleasure

by Corinne Lowe

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—Above we are showing a frock which can follow the modern woman through that maze of hours which leads from business to some social affair. So many women of talent but without him and am very happy. Again I am doubtful and feel miserable. His education is inferior to mine and small grammatical errors get on my nerves terribly. I thought of going out with other young men, but he already has told me that if I did he could never feel the same toward me and would go away for ever."

Another type of dress possessed of the same capacity to play a double role was worn at the Ritz by a woman prominent in both business and social circles. It consisted of black crepe satin with touches of gold at the throat, cuffs and belt and gold bindings on the two-tiered, scalloped skirt. An attached scarf collar of self material cut very narrow and wound once around the neck gave a tailored touch.

—Margaret Mann Collins, News.

"A WINNER!"

"Delightful entertainment, easy to look at all the way. Should stay longer than 'No. No. Nanette'."

—C. J. Ruliff, Post.

"WHAT A JOY!"

"delicious bits of melody, such as 'I'm a Little Bit Fond of You' and 'Love Like You, You Love Like Me'."

—Claudia Cassidy, Journal of Comm.

"THEN THE FUN BEGINS!"

"...a veritable fashion show for the stage, with dash, melody and color and chorus and dancing."

—Fred McGuire, Eve. American.
